About the Founder

George Soros was born in Budapest, Hungary, in 1930. He survived the Nazi occupation of Budapest and left communist Hungary in 1947 for England, where he graduated from the London School of Economics. While a student at LSE, he became familiar with the work of the philosopher Karl Popper, who had a profound influence on his thinking and later on his professional and philanthropic activities.

In 1956, George Soros moved to the United States, where he began to accumulate a large fortune through an international investment fund he founded and managed. Today he is Chairman of Soros Fund Management LLC.

George Soros has been active as a philanthropist since 1979, when he began providing funds to help black students attend Capetown University in apartheid South Africa. Today he is Chairman of the Open Society Institute and the founder of a network of philanthropic organizations active in more than 50 countries in Eastern Europe, the former Soviet Union, Africa, Latin America, Asia, and the United States. These foundations are dedicated to building and maintaining the infrastructure and institutions of an open society. In 1992, Mr. Soros founded the Central European University, with its primary campus in Budapest.

George Soros is the author of eight books: The Alchemy of Finance, 1987; Opening the Soviet System, 1990; Underwriting Democracy, 1991; Soros on Soros: Staying Ahead of the Curve, 1995; The Crisis of Global Capitalism: Open Society Endangered, 1998; Open Society: Reforming Global Capitalism, 2000; George Soros on Globalization, 2002; and the most recent one The Bubble of America Supremacy, 2004. His articles and essays on politics, society, and economics regularly appear in major newspapers and magazines around the world.

About the Foundation

The Stefan Batory Foundation is an independent, non-profit organization of a public benefit status registered by the District Court of Warsaw (Praga) on May 7th 1988. George Soros, an American financier and philanthropist, is the organization's Founder and chief donor. The Stefan Batory Foundation's mission is to build an open, democratic society – a society of people aware of their rights and responsibilities, who take an active role in public life and are responsible for themselves and for their community.

The Foundation's activity focuses on three priority areas:

■ support to civic initiatives in Poland

Civic involvement is an indispensable ingredient of every democratic process. The Foundation has provided support to a number of various types of community involvement initiatives that facilitate local problem solving. We help independent non-governmental organisations which take up projects in areas where the role or the capacity of the state are limited. We are the only grant-maker in Poland to support not only individual projects but also long term programs and institutional strengthening: strategic planning, management enhancement, financial sustainability. We support community initiatives which increase public participation and create equal opportunities for the most vulnerable or disadvantaged social groups.

■ access to justice and social scrutiny

We are convinced that democracy cannot function well without the knowledge of and respect for law among all citizens and without social scrutiny of the government. Therefore, we support measures that are designed to provide all citizens with access to information and justice. We assist legal and civil education programs. We disseminate legal expertise and methods of exercising scrutiny over public confidence institutions. We advocate systems to control corruption and protect individuals rights against government abuse.

■ international assistance and co-operation

Poland's democracy is young. We still remember its tough beginnings – therefore we help our neighbours in the East to advance democracy, particularly in Belarus and Ukraine. We facilitate experience sharing in the areas of political and social transition. We implement projects aimed at building strong neighbourly relations with the East and the West. We contribute to the dialogue on the future of common Europe and advocate a greater role of community initiative in international relations and in the advancement of democratic principles and respect for human rights.

The basic method of our operation involves making grants to the non-governmental organisations. Throughout 2004, we provided 363 grants to institutions and organizations, 49 travel grants to cover costs of 231 participants attending events and projects abroad, as well as 11 awards; overall expenditure to that purpose totalled PLN 14,5 million (EUR 3,35 million).

Alone or in partnership with other organisations, we also initiate and implement projects that are important for the social and political development of Poland. We host public debates on political, social and international relations issues, produce publications, conduct research and social campaigns, organise conferences, seminars and training workshops; overall expenditure to that purpose totalled in 2004 PLN 4 million (EUR 925,000).

In 2004 apart from the 11 programs operated by the Foundation, we funded also 10 spun-off programs carried out by our partner organizations. These included:

- ProBonus Fund – a program to support organizations involved in assistance to the third sector, co-funded by the Ford and C. S. Mott Foundations and managed by the Civil Society Development Foundation (funds allocated for the years 2004–2006)
- Polish NGO Office in Brussels – a program supporting Polish organizations in their preparation for active participation in the European integration process, managed by Forum of Non-Governmental Initiatives Association (funds allocated for the years 2004–2005)
- Fund for Women – a program of grant support for women’s initiatives, co-funded by the Ford Foundation, and handed over to the OSKa National Women’s Information Center www.oska.org.pl (funds allocated for the years 2003–2006)
- Local Culture – a program to support culture in rural areas and small towns, co-funded and managed by the Rural Development Foundation (funds allocated for the years 2003–2004)
- Local History – a history competition for secondary school students managed by the Karta Centre Foundation (funds allocated for the years 2003–2006)
- Journals Showcase – a cultural magazine support program, handed over to the Open Source Culture Foundation (funds allocated for the years 2003–2005)
- Art for Social Change – a program promoting artistic activity as a way of helping young people to overcome social and cultural disorientation, co-funded by the European Cultural Foundation

About the Foundation

and the Evens Foundation, managed by the Theatre in Education Association Wybrzeżak (funds allocated for the years 2003–2004)

- Big Brother, Big Sister – a support program for neglected children, handed over to the Big Brother, Big Sister Foundation – Poland (funds allocated for the years 2003–2005)
- First Step – a program that helps Roma children to undertake early education, managed by Educational Society of Małopolska (funds allocated for the years 2003–2005)
- Eastern Scholarships – a scholarship program for Central and East European scientists, co-funded by the Foundation for Polish Science, and managed by the Józef Mianowski Fund – the Foundation for the Promotion of Science (funds allocated for the years 2003–2004)

In our activity we observe principles of transparency, openness and accountability. The applications for grants are assessed with the help of special expert committees which review and recommend applications for funding. Final decisions of grant awards are made by the Foundation's Board. We announce up-to-date information about our activities and grant-seeking possibilities on our Website. Our finances are professionally audited and publicized in the Annual Report together with the list of grants awarded and projects implemented during the year.

Our Donors

In 2004, we received funds for our activity from the Open Society Institute, financed by George Soros. Though far smaller than in previous years, these funds continued to be a significant item in the Foundation's budget. Our activities were also supported by other Polish and foreign institutions and private donors.

We continued the Third Sector Program planned for 2003–2006 from the grant awarded by the Trust for Civil Society in Central and Eastern Europe. With the funds from the Ford Foundation, we operated the Citizens in Action Program supporting civic initiatives in Belarus and Ukraine. The Robert Bosch Foundation funded Polish-German Twin Cities Program initiated in 2002 and the recently launched Community Initiatives Partnership Program to support Polish-German-Russian cooperation projects in the Kaliningrad District.

Our activities in the area of international cooperation were co-funded by a variety of organizations, including the Polish-American-Ukrainian Cooperation Initiative, PAUCI and Canadian International Development Agency – Official Development Assistance in Central Europe CIDA-ODACE. The New Geopolitics of Central and Eastern Europe. Between the European Union and United States Conference was co-financed by the Robert Bosch Foundation and Oracle Poland; support was also provided by the Embassy of France and Hines Poland. The United States and Royal Netherlands Embassies contributed to the Anti-Corruption Program. The Amsterdam Group and the International Centre for Alcohol Policies supported the conference on alcoholism, organized by the Regional Alcohol and Drug Program.

Our programs for children and teenagers: Equal Opportunities – Local Scholarship Funds for young people from low-income families and the Rainbow Academy Program for disabled children and youth, were supported, among others, by Levi Strauss & Co., the Commercial Union Poland insurance company, the Belgian Evens Foundation and individual donors, including Helen and Peter Maxwell, a private donor wishing to remain anonymous, whose donation was used to establish the K Fund, as well as from payments of 1% of income tax. In-kind donations for the Equal Opportunity Program were provided by: Talens Poland and Wydawnictwo Literackie publishing office.

Our Donors

In 2004, as in previous years, we ran the Commercial Union Charity Fund, a donor-advised fund of an insurance company that had been cooperating with us since 1996. The Fund was used to support projects indicated by the donor in the area of health care and education. The income gained from investing the endowed M Fund, created in 2002 thanks to a donation by a private donor, was, in line with the Founder's will, used to help disabled and ill children, and support equal opportunities projects. For a successive year we administered the Beata Pawlak Fund used, in line with the Founder's last will, to finance an annual prize for the best article on other cultures, religions and civilizations.

In 2004, we continued our efforts begun two years prior, to grow the endowment which will constitute a basis for our funding in the future. Our efforts to build the endowment and expand our funding base were supported by the Trust for Civil Society in Central and Eastern Europe as well as the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation.

We thank all our donors from the bottom of our hearts!

With your help we can help others!

The Batory Foundation Debates

The Batory Foundation Debates are an attempt at establishing an independent meeting and discussion forum for politicians, professionals, public intellectuals and journalists. The Foundation has long organized conferences and seminars on transition in Poland, international affairs, Poland's foreign policy and the situation in Central and Eastern Europe. Our goal was to initiate public discourse on subjects material to the future of our state and the region.

Polish foreign policy – continuation or severance?

February 5, 2004

The debate was moderated by Aleksander Smolar, President of the Batory Foundation.

Panellists: Lena Kolarska-Bobińska, Director of the Institute of Public Affairs, Tadeusz Mazowiecki, former Premier of Poland, Andrzej Olechowski, former Minister of Foreign Affairs of Poland, and Dariusz Rosati, former Minister of Foreign Affairs of Poland. The debate was summarized by Włodzimierz Cimoszewicz, Minister of Foreign Affairs of Poland.

After joining NATO in 1999, in May 2004, we received full membership rights in the European Union, thus further becoming a player in regional and European politics. Additionally, our decided support for the United States in the Iraqi crisis suddenly and unexpectedly made Poland a participant of global politics. The position on the Iraq war and military involvement during and after the victorious military operation have led to the evident cooling of relations with Poland's hitherto closest European allies. The establishment of good relations with our neighbours had been a great achievement since 1989. The current poor state of relations with Germany seems to have its origins, though not exclusively, in the above referenced factors. The state of our relations with other states of the region, including the Visegrad Group, also requires urgent consideration, especially in light of Poland's regional leadership aspirations. Debate participants discussed how the change of Poland's international position may impact our participation in shaping the Union's future foreign policy, especially its Eastern dimension.

Series of debates Will the European Union Save Poland?

On the eve of Poland's accession to the European Union, the attendant mood changed drastically. After the mild and optimistic atmosphere preceding the referendum came a time of hesitation, at times even dislike or enmity, toward the Union. In this situation, in April 2004, we began a cycle of debates entitled Will the European Union Save Poland? Our goal was to return equilibrium to the evaluation of the benefits and possible threats to our interests arising from Union accession and evaluation thereof on various levels: development opportunities, civilization of state and legal institutions, openness of borders and mass capital flow, openness of Europe to workers, students, thought and creativity. In a group of renowned politicians, specialists, participants of public life, we discussed the various pros and cons of Union accession.

State, law, society

April 5, 2004

The debate was moderated by Aleksander Smolar, President of the Batory Foundation.

Panellists: Michał Boni, former Minister of Labour and Social Policy, Ludwik Dorn, deputy to the Polish Parliament, Law and Justice Party; Michał Kleiber, Minister of Education and the Chair of the Scientific Research Committee, Ewa Łętowska, Justice of the Constitutional Tribunal and former Ombudsman, Mirosława Marody, sociologist, Institute of Social Sciences at the Polish Academy of Sciences, Marek Safjan, Chief Justice of the Constitutional Tribunal.

The discussion concerned the impact of the Union primarily on our non-economic institutions: the state, law and, as a result, our society. In their speeches, participants referred to the following issues: How will transferring a portion of state sovereignty to the Union impact the actions of member states? Does the functioning of Union institutions constitute a threat to nation-states, or, conversely, will it favour their reinforcement? What influence does the Union currently have and what influence will it have in the future on the law and its application: protection of civic rights, guaranteeing individual and minority rights? How will European law and other European institutions exact increased efficiency and transparency from our courts, police and administration?

Economic opportunities

April 26, 2004

The debate was moderated by Aleksander Smolar, President of the Batory Foundation.

Panellists: Leszek Balcerowicz, President of the National Bank of Poland, Janusz Lewandowski, Deputy to the Polish Parliament, Citizen's Platform Party; Dariusz Rosati, former Minister of Foreign Affairs of Poland, former member of the Monetary Policy Council, Włodzimierz Grudziński, President of the Bank BISE S.A., and Prof. Jan Winiecki, economist.

Participants responded to the following questions: Does accession to the European Union create opportunities or threats for the Polish economy? Will Polish businesses be able to withstand Union competition and function on the Union market, what benefits could arise from accession for employees, companies and regions? Participants agreed that EU accession alone does not guarantee success and much depends on us – from the successful carrying out of necessary reforms to the rational use of Union assistance. The very regulated EU economy sometimes puts up barriers to economic growth. However, Poland, as a member state, will have influence on the economic regulations to be put in place; it should be an active partner, an initiator of change and reform. Increased competition on the Union market, in the mind of the participants, is beneficial to consumers and companies. Polish businesses know how to act in the new environment, are used to changes and can evaluate their chances to face the challenges of the European market.

Union goals, Poland's goals

May 17, 2004

The debate was moderated by Aleksander Smolar, President of the Batory Foundation.

Panellists: Tadeusz Mazowiecki, former Premier of Poland, Krzysztof Michalski, philosopher, Director of Institute for Human Sciences in Vienna, Zbigniew Nosowski, editor-in-chief of the Więź monthly, Wiktor Osiatyński, attorney, constitutional specialist, and Sławomir Sierakowski, editor-in-chief of the Krytyka Polityczna quarterly.

Against a backdrop of an ongoing discussion in the media regarding the preamble to the European Constitution, the moderator, Aleksander Smolar, posed the question: how important is the reference to Christian values in the political constitution of the community, where those distant from Christianity as well as members of other religions live? Should the community of European states be formed based on formal market and legal rules? The most important issue for all participants was how to “infuse soul” into the European community being built, how to cause the societies to feel a sense of community, how to engage people to feel a part of an important and vibrant society, and for all negotiated documents to be significant to the citizens of Union members states.

Security issues

June 24, 2004

The debate was moderated by Aleksander Smolar, President of the Batory Foundation.

Panellists: Bolesław Balcerowicz, retired Division General, Academy of National Defence, Antoni Podolski, International Relations Centre, former advisor to the Parliamentary Commission for Control of Secret Services, Adam Rotfeld, undersecretary of state in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Poland, Zbigniew Siemiątkowski, former head of the Intelligence Agency, deputy to the Polish Parliament, Democratic Left Alliance.

Security issues in today's world are far larger than just the question of protection against possible external attack. They also include questions of internal security. Debate participants attempted to answer the question whether in both dimensions – external and internal – Union membership will benefit our security. All agreed that enlargement of the European Union placed new challenges before member states in the realm of providing for their citizens' security: international terrorism, frailty of state institutions in poorer countries as well as the uncontrolled proliferation of weapons of mass destruction. They further deemed that development of cooperation mechanisms in the realm of European security is necessary in light of the new global threats. Even though numerous institutions for international cooperation to assure security are already active within the enlarged European Union, cooperation with NATO is still necessary. After questioning the United States' leadership in the North Atlantic Treaty, it is important for the European Union and NATO to develop a new partnership model.

Series of debates State Crisis and Possible Ways Out

In 2004, we continued a series of debates on the crisis of the state begun in September 2003. An expression of the crisis of the state is the growing negative attitude toward the systemic changes taking place in Poland after 1989. There is no doubt that societal distrust toward political elites and non-political authorities is deepening. The feeling of crisis has various sources, however, the primary locus lies in the functioning of state institutions, political parties, the law, in ties between the political and business spheres, in the connections and tensions occurring between politics and the media. The relations of parties and politicians to the state and society, the process for selecting the political class, and frailty of control mechanisms to which politics are subject all play important roles. We sought answers to the questions on ways out of this crisis from a circle of politicians of various leanings, academics, business people and journalists, i.e. those who share our concern.

Delegated democracy – opportunity or threat for democracy?

January 22, 2004

The debate was moderated by Aleksander Smolar, President of the Batory Foundation.

Panellists: Leszek Balcerowicz, President of the National Bank of Poland, Marcin Król, editor-in-chief of Res Publica Nowa, Mirosław Wyrzykowski, Justice of the Constitutional Tribunal, Andrzej Zoll, Ombudsman for Civil Rights Protection.

Delegated democracy is the establishment of institutions, which, though formed through a democratic process, are insulated from it in their activities. Such institutions are subordinated solely to their applicable goals and tasks, established in the constitutional document that appointed them. Their multiplication comes from the conviction that effective functioning of democracy requires a rigorous drawing of borders for the democratic process, an exclusion of certain important spheres of collective life from political wrangling. There are several such institutions in Poland: Constitutional Tribunal, Monetary Policy Council, the Public Radio and Television Council. The problem of delegating certain realms of democracy engenders numerous philosophical reservations – as to the principles of democracy and abridgment thereof, as well as reservations of a practical nature – with respect to the results of institutional activity not subjugated on a daily basis to the “will of the people” as expressed by parliament. These reservations were taken up as the subject of our discussion.

How to repair politics?

September 13, 2004

The debate was moderated by Aleksander Smolar, President of the Batory Foundation.

Panellists: Marek Borowski, former Marshall of the Polish Parliament, Social Democratic Party, Jacek Kurczewski, social scientist, Warsaw University, Radosław Markowski, Director of the Political Science Institute, Donald Tusk, Vice Marshall of the Polish Parliament, Citizen’s Platform, Jacek Żakowski, publicist, Polityka weekly.

A feeling of distrust, distance and alienation toward governing elites dominates within society. There are also problems with respect to politicians and democratic processes and procedures.

The cause of this state of affairs is the low evaluation of political efficiency as well as the professional and moral qualifications of the political class. Debate participants discussed what this Parliament and present government could and should do to repair our politics and rebuild social trust. They discussed political boundaries: what such should be so as not to take away citizens' voice and limit freedom while assuring effectiveness, transparency and the necessary control in fundamental state institutions and the form of electoral laws.

Media and democracy

October 25, 2004

The debate was moderated by Aleksander Smolar, President of the Batory Foundation.

Panellists: Jerzy Baczyński, editor-in-chief of the Polityka weekly, Jan Dworak, Chair of the Polish Public TV Board of Directors, Helena Łuczywo, managing editor-in-chief of the Gazeta Wyborcza daily, Jan Skórzyński, managing editor-in-chief of the Rzeczpospolita daily.

In light of the weakness of legislative, executive and judicial authorities, the media in Poland play a tremendous role in investigating the truth regarding the functioning of the political sphere and institutions of law in Poland. Thus, we considered what is the balance sheet of media accomplishments and sought answers to other questions of import: Do media succumb to manipulation by political circles, secret services and lobbyists? Is it the media's ambition to influence the political process or even institutional forms of democracy in our country by promoting certain concepts, political personalities or parties? Do media facilitate the rise of populism in politics?

Poland's local government. Balance of hopes, worries and doubts

November 29, 2004

The debate was moderated by Aleksander Smolar, President of the Batory Foundation.

Panellists: Witold Gintowt-Dziewałtowski, deputy to the Polish Parliament, Democratic Left Alliance, Lech Kaczyński, President of Warsaw, Marek Kuchciński, deputy to the Polish Parliament, Law and Justice, Michał Kulesza, former Government Plenipotentiary for Reform of Public Administration, Jerzy Regulski, President of the Foundation in Support of Local Democracy.

Delegation of significant power to local governments was one of the great hopes of the Polish transformation after 1989. Today, however, problems related to their functioning have moved into the background. What is the evaluation of their achievements at the mid-term? What is the current situation with respect to expectations? To what extent can we speak of achievements? Those are just some of the questions our panellists attempted to answer.

Series of lectures About the Repair of the Republic of Poland

Citizens have a bad impression of the effectiveness of politics, the opinion about the professional and moral qualifications of the political class is quite low, though there are clearly extreme differences in popularity and the electoral chances of various parties. Polls indicate a high level of distrust, distance and alienation toward governing elites. This situation breeds serious threats – not only is the authority of politicians being questioned but the greater majority of citizens seem to doubt democratic procedures and institutions.

We asked important political figures to respond to questions about what the Republic of Poland is like today, how it may be repaired and what activities should be urgently undertaken.

A lecture by Aleksander Kwaśniewski, President of Poland December 13, 2004

The lecture by the President of Poland inaugurated the series. The President called for restraint in judgement; he reminded that although we were dealing with a pathology in Polish public life, detrimental and harmful occurrences, such were also accompanied by a healthy pace of economic growth, Poland's membership in the European Union, international esteem for our country, a secure place in alliance systems and finally our complete and uncontested independence. The President accepted the opinion that the state is undergoing a crisis. He felt consideration should be given to a repair strategy but notes that democracy has built-in self-corrective mechanisms. Democracy thus should not be limited, law cannot be applied in a shortcut manner, and extraordinary control institutions or permanent investigative commissions should not be appointed. Of the institutions that should be reinforced, the President named the justice administration and also indicated a need for the discussion of the media's role in democracy. He admitted that over the course of changes in the last few years, Poland was not successful in building a civil society – aware of its rights, participating and engaged in public life.

Civil Society Program

The aim of this Program is to increase citizens' participation in public life, and to enhance the role and efficiency of civic institutions. We help organizations that contribute to the growth of community initiatives. We encourage them to cooperate with one another as well as with other social partners: local government, the business community, volunteers, and participate in creating social policy and strategy of development of Poland. We try to promote positive models of civic activity and the principles of public scrutiny over both public institutions and public organisations.

Institutional grants

In 2004, we held an open competition for institutional grants aimed to help NGOs build stable foundations for continued functioning, develop successful action and financing plans and contribute to raising the standards of the organizations' work and management. The competition was open to NGOs founded before 2002, with at least 3 full-time employees and diverse funding sources, playing an important role in a certain area of social life and cooperating with other organizations and institutions. The organizations have to prove they had a vision for their own development. Twenty-eight organizations received institutional grants after the two-tier contest.

The ProBonus Fund

On the initiative of the Mott Foundation, the Ford Foundation, and the Batory Foundation, a three-year fund was set up with an aim to increase capacity and efficiency of infrastructure organizations acting in the field of support and development of NGO sector in Poland. The Fund is managed by the Civil Society Development Foundation.

Liaison officers – Experts on social development and EU funding

With a view to help the NGO sector get involved in planning, monitoring and utilizing structural funds, we initiated a program in 2002 to build a network of liaison officers/experts on social development and EU funding. Currently, in 16 Polish provinces, there are 28 regional and three liaison officers specializing in ecology and farming.

The liaisons prepared a concept for the cooperation of NGOs with public offices and institutions, media and business, they oversee the transparency of the recruitment system for the EU structural funds Regional Steering and Monitoring Committees and opine on regional development strategy.

It is also the liaisons' task to inform organizations of available funding from EU sources, providing advice in drafting particularly difficult applications and assisting in building project coalitions.

Liaison officers have institutional support from local NGOs, which provide office facilities. Each organization received a grant from the Batory Foundation to cover the expenses while developing a regional cooperation network (e.g. meetings, report development and travel). We provide further support to liaisons by keeping them informed and organizing regular meeting and training, sharing reports and assessment papers, promoting their position and facilitating their approach towards government administration, and by funding specific selected activities.

In 2004, the liaisons actively participated in the process of selecting NGO representatives to the Regional Steering and Monitoring Committees, many of those were appointed to fill these functions in the regions.

Watchdog organizations. Social responsibility in public life

The purpose of the project initiated in 2004 is to support the activities of NGOs involved in public scrutiny of the observance of transparency and responsibility in public institutions and intervention in cases of violation or disregard of these principles. We awarded 22 grants for projects concerning protection of human rights, patient rights, environmental protection and control of local government and public administration.

You have a vote, you have a choice. Local government is yours!

In 2002 we launched a four year project of monitoring promises made by candidates for mayors, presidents and heads of municipalities during the local government campaign. The aim of the project is to encourage citizens to participate in elections and make decisions important for the entire community; we want to reinforce voters' and elected politicians' feeling of common responsibility for these decisions.

In 2004, in cooperation with regional centres of Foundation in Support of Local Democracy and the Network of Information and Support for Non-Governmental Organizations SPLOT we verified how mayors and presidents fulfilled their campaign promises in 97 municipalities. A report showing the level of promise fulfilment was drafted based on that data. It was made available to the public via local media and on our Website.

Microgrants for individual development

In 2004, we awarded 21 microgrants to NGO activists and employees designated for increasing qualifications and skills, gaining professional experience or making contacts important for their individual career growth as well as for the development of the organization. The grants were awarded for, amongst other, courses and trainings related to management of the organization, trainings and courses for those providing psychological assistance and therapy, post-graduate studies and study visits.

The Beata Pawlak Award

From a named Fund established at the Foundation by the last will of a deceased Beata Pawlak, journalist and writer, who died on October 12th 2002 in a terrorist attack on Indonesian Bali, an award is presented annually to an author of an article or series of articles dealing with other cultures, religions, or civilizations.

2004 was the second year of Beata Pawlak Award. The prizes went to Piotr Kłodkowski, for a cycle of articles Sumptuous Taste of the Orient, published in the Znak monthly, and to Andrzej Stasiuk for the book Riding to Babadag (Czarne Publishing Office, 2004). The award presentation took place on October 11 in the Batory Foundation. It was accompanied by a panel discussion Thrown overboard? devoted to the situation of former communist bloc states, which are not members of the European Union, and an exhibit of photographs taken by Beata Pawlak during her last, six-month trip through Asia. The debate, with the participation of journalists: Bogumiła Berdychowska, Miłada Jędrzyk, Bogumił Luft and Andrzej Stasiuk, was moderated by Konstancy Gebert.

Third Sector Program

The Third Sector Program was launched in January 2003. It constitutes a larger project aimed to support the process of developing and stabilising the civil society in 7 Central and Eastern European countries: Bulgaria, the Czech Republic, Poland, Romania, Slovenia, Slovakia, and Hungary, initiated and funded by the Trust for Civil Society in Central and Eastern Europe established by a consortium of six American foundations that had been active in this region.

The aim of the Program is to improve the overall operations of the non-profit sector in Poland by creating a favourable legal and fiscal environment for organizations' growth, providing assistance in building foundations of their financial stability, and enhancing cooperation between organizations as well as the development of partnership relations with other sectors. The Program, planned for four years, is run in cooperation with selected partner organizations, which received grants for their projects.

Favourable Environment for Non-Governmental Organizations' Growth

Partner organizations: Institute of Public Affairs, Klon/Jawor Association

The Foundation finances research conducted by our partners on the third sector and phenomena important to the third sector's development.

In 2004, the Klon/Jawor Association conducted nation-wide research of the state of civic organizations in Poland and 3 thematic investigations on cooperation between state administration and non-governmental organizations, the organizations' cooperation with local government, and research on volunteerism and philanthropy. Research results are published in the form of brochures and on the website: www.badania.ngo.pl.

The Institute of Public Affairs organized two expert seminars: State tax policy with respect to non-governmental organizations and Non-governmental organizations and VAT. The first issue of the quarterly Third Sector was published by the Institute. The periodical presents analyses of the non-profit sector and suggests directions for its development. The quarterly aims to present information regarding the state of and prospects for development of the third sector by regularly publishing expert opinions and recommendations for the future. As part of the project, a system of monitoring legal regulations concerning civic organizations was also established. The information collection process takes advantage of all ongoing contacts with parties impacting legislative processes, analysis of source materials and constant communication with organizations. Monitoring results, expert texts and analyses are available at the project Web page at www.isp.org.pl/kompas/.

Partnership for the Third Sector

Partner organizations: Foundation in Support of Local Democracy and SPLOT Network of Information and Support for Non-Governmental Organizations

The project aims to reinforce cooperation between non-governmental organizations and local governments at the regional and local levels, assure organizational participation in setting the agenda and distribution of structural funds, increase practical knowledge regarding mechanisms for applying for EU funds, facilitate creation of NGO representations.

In 2004, project activities focused on dissemination and promotion of the Act on public benefit activity and volunteerism. In addition to organizing conferences and trainings, publishing (handbooks and brochures from the Better to know more) series, work was conducted in about 70 municipalities on cooperation programs among local governments and civic organizations. In over 30 towns, these efforts ended in local authorities adopting appropriate resolutions. Further, a series of meetings was continued with the purpose of establishing 10 representations of civic organizations active in different spheres of life in various regions of Poland.

Another realm of activity was related to assuring organizations access to structural funds. Numerous trainings and regional conferences were held, as was monitoring of the process of selecting organizations' representatives to the regional committees that steer and monitor the use of EU structural funds.

Detailed information in this regard is available on the pages of our partner organizations: www.splot.ngo.pl and www.frdl.org.pl/spolecze/partnerstwo.htm.

New Models of Civic Initiatives Funding

Partner organizations: Academy for the Development of Philanthropy in Poland and Polish Environmental Partnership Foundation

We provide funds to partner organizations, which carry out activities planned for a 3-year period aimed at disseminating of innovative models for philanthropic activity. We support fundraising and local coalition building methodologies that benefit from the collaborative network of NGOs, local government, business and private donors to form a sustainable funding source for initiatives that respond to local community needs.

We support activities of the Academy for the Development of Philanthropy in Poland which through training, consulting and financial assistance strives to reinforce the 12 existing and establish 10 new community foundations, i.e. local non-governmental organizations which receive local donations and redistribute funds in the form of grants awarded to local initiatives while building an endowment to ensure long term grantmaking capability. Activities conducted by the Polish Environmental Partnership Foundation are intended to support 15 Partnership Groups, i.e. coalitions for development of regions with common traditions, similar economic and social conditions, which consist of NGOs, public institutions (local governments, cultural centers, museums, nature parks, etc.) and local businesses. It is planned that as part of the project, thanks to consultations, training, subsidies and help in raising funds, over 3 years, 20 partnership groups will attain organizational stability enabling independent operation of programs on the local and regional levels, while also raising over 1 million EUR for their activities. More information on the project may be found at www.gp.epce.org.pl.

We support philanthropy and corporate social involvement by co-funding two key campaigns run by the Academy for the Development of Philanthropy in Poland. In 2004, another edition of the Benefactor of the Year competition was held to promote attitudes of involvement and corporate social responsibility. Also a campaign aimed to encourage taxpayers to use the opportunity of allocating 1% of their tax due to support a public benefit organization has been prepared. The special page at www.jedenprocent.pl is an element of this campaign.

Institutional Development of Non-Governmental Organizations

We support the process of building the financial and institutional stability of civic organizations, the activity of which has a key impact for social and third sector development. As part of an open contest, we offered NGOs two types of grants: capital grants – designated for creating organization's endowment and strategic grants – designated for organization's institutional development (improving staff qualifications, development of material resources, preparation of the organization to undertake new program activities or activities intended to attain financial independence) and for creation of financial reserves. We awarded 18 subsidies (one of them will be paid in 2005) for the total amount of PLN 9,480,000; pursuant to concluded agreements, the majority of grants will be disbursed in tranches in 2004–2006.

Legal Education Program

The objective of the Legal Program is to initiate and support the increase of public awareness and promote information on legal issues, to develop a law-abiding culture in Poland, and to assist citizens in gaining access to legal knowledge, in identification and application of the legal protection tools available to them.

During 2004, we facilitated the application of legal instruments protecting individual interests, and supporting citizens in claiming and executing their rights. We prioritized projects of practical value that provided effective solutions to specific problems of everyday life and focused on initiatives that would help people find their way amongst rules and procedures often perceived by them as confusing, and develop their knowledge and skills that would enable them to use the legal provisions to their best advantage. It was important for us to ensure that the projects sponsored under the Legal Education Program were implemented in cooperation with local governments and non-governmental organizations, and had a long-term strategy in terms of further development and funding.

Our partners were mainly non-governmental organizations, since they played a crucial role in the application of, and adherence to, legal provisions by both individuals and public bodies in Poland. In 2004 these included the Alliance of Citizens' Advice Bureaus Association, University Legal Clinics Foundation, and Iustitia Judges Association.

As part of our activities aimed at increasing access to legal knowledge and information, we continued to support University Legal Clinics and Citizens' Advice Bureaus. The main aim of these organizations is to provide free and impartial information on legal issues, as well as professional advice to individuals facing serious problems. In the case of the Citizens' Advice Bureaus, this task is carried out by experts who underwent special training; in Legal Clinics the advisors are law students supervised by university teachers or representatives of the legal profession with appropriate experience. In 2004 we awarded grants to 27 Citizens' Advice Bureaus, to the University Legal Clinics Foundation established in 2002, as well as to the University Legal Clinics at the University of Śląsk in Katowice and the University of Wrocław.

In addition, we supported activities of the organizations providing legal assistance and aid to people facing serious problems: the Association of Women and their Families of Zabrze that conducts an advisory service for women, Itaka Foundation for the Assistance to Those Affected by the Problem of Missing Persons, Homo Homini Foundation, which provides counselling through the Internet. Considerable attention was given to educational projects dealing with various legal issues and human rights. We supported groups for whom legal information was of primary importance, such as the disabled, ex-convicts or youth.

We continued a project entitled Citizen at Court, involving the establishment of information desks at courthouses offering user-friendly, straightforward information about basic legal issues and provided subsidies towards the publication of advice manuals prepared by non-governmental organizations, such as the Locomotive Society for the Support of Child and Family of Łódź, Mederi Foundation and the Center for Women's Rights.

In collaboration with the Iustitia Polish Judges Association and the Helsinki Human Rights Foundation, we continued our Journalist in Court sessions for judges and journalists covering court trials. The purpose of those sessions is to ensure mutual recognition and better understanding of working conditions of both professional groups, establish contact, and exchange experience and opinion. The ultimate goal is to set up conditions for better public understanding of work performed by the judiciary thanks to competent and reliable media information. Meetings were attended by journalists of the regional and local media, and by judges working in the area. The agenda of all meetings involved an open discussion around topics concerning media-courthouse relations, and mock court trials with roles swapped: journalists took on relevant courthouse parts (judges, prosecutors, attorneys, defendants, and witnesses), whereas judges were responsible for drafting press, radio, and TV materials describing the "trial". In 2004 sessions were held in Wrocław, Toruń and Opole.

Anti-Corruption Program

The aim of the Program, implemented in collaboration with the Helsinki Human Rights Foundation, is to build trust in public institutions, foster civic awareness and make the public more sensitive to various manifestations of corruption in the country. We pursue these objectives by initiating and supporting a civic movement towards increased transparency of public life, information and education activity devised to influence public attitudes towards the phenomenon of corruption in daily life, and by proposing legislative changes which promote social participation in decision making, guarantee the transparency of decision making processes, and institute control mechanisms which prevent corruption. The important element of the Program activities in 2004 was to monitor central and local government.

Program activities in 2004 were co-financed by the Royal Netherlands Embassy (PLN 41 425 for training for leaders of local civic groups), the Embassy of the United States of America (PLN 16 900 for awards in the Only Fish Don't Take Bait Competition), the Regional East-East Program (PLN 15 445.39 for the Transparent Townhalls) and the Agora S.A. company (PLN 3 660 in-kind contribution for the Monitoring of election promises 2001 review conference).

Fighting corruption in the everyday life

Corruption Barometer. Public opinion and deputies on corruption report

Each year the Foundation commissions a public opinion poll, on the basis of which an indicator called "corruption barometer" is established. By asking the same questions every year we verify how the attitude of society to the problem and scale of corruption changes. Together with the poll, each year, we conduct in-depth research on corruption problems in specific aspects of social life. On the basis of this research, 4 reports to date have been published: Corruption in the everyday life (2000), Patients and doctors on corruption in the public health service (2001), Public opinion and officials on corruption in local governments (2002), and Public opinion and businessmen on corruption (2003). In 2004 our focus is on political corruption in the case of law-making processes. The reports from the research are presented at public seminars and are available at our Website.

In 2004, the in-depth study concerned political corruption, including corruption in the legislative process, and had the participation of 232 deputies.

The report on Public opinion and deputies about corruption research prepared by Dr Anna Kubiak from the Sociology Institute of Łódź University was presented at the conference in September 2004. During the conference, a report by Piotr Rymaszewski, Piotr Kurek and Paweł Dobrowolski entitled Reform of the legislative process prepared for the Centre for Social and Economic Research was also presented

Only fish don't take bait?
contest for journalists

In 2004, we announced the 5th edition of the Only fish don't take bait? contest, addressed to investigative journalists. 162 press, radio and television materials were submitted, prepared by 59 journalists from 26 various media outlets. The Award's Committee: Klaus Bachmann (Willy Brandt Centre of German and European Studies of Wrocław University), Krzysztof Bobiński (Unia & Polska), Teresa Bogucka (Gazeta Wyborcza), Marcin Król (Respublika), Justyna Duriasz-Bułhak (Foundation for the Support of Rural Areas) and Janusz Buszyński (US Embassy) awarded 5 prizes:

– 1st prize of PLN 12 298 was awarded to:

Marek Kęskrawiec from the Newsweek Poland weekly and Aleksandra Tu-dyka from TVN television for a series of articles entitled Dead Souls and a cycle of TV reports entitled Clinics, filmed in cooperation with Maciej Kuciel, disclosing the scale of fraudulent payments drawn from the National Health Fund by health care service employees.

– 2nd prize of PLN 7267 was awarded to:

Bertold Kittel from the Rzeczpospolita daily for a series of reports entitled Secret Accounts of Former Common Insurance Company (PZU) Bosses, of which two were contributed to by Anna Marszałek and Andrzej Stankiewicz.

– 3rd prize of PLN 6149 was awarded to:

Jarostaw Jabrzyk from TVN for two television reports: Prosecutor and Prosecutor 2, that present the story of a district prosecutor from Katowice caught demanding a bribe.

– a special prize of PLN 6149 was awarded to Tomasz Prusek from the Gazeta Wyborcza daily for the article entitled I write, therefore I don't play, regarding the moral dilemmas of journalists covering the stock market.

– a prize of PLN 4000 for materials discussing local Polish issues, was awarded to Ewa Szkurłat-Adamska from Radio Krakow Małopolska for In a Magic Circle reports (the prize was funded by the Foundation for the Support of Rural Areas).

The awards ceremony was accompanied by a Corruption and populism debate moderated by Aleksander Smolar, Foundation President, with the participation of Dr. Tomasz Żukowski, sociologist, Jacek Żakowski, Polityka weekly publicist, prof. Antoni Kamiński, politologist and Piotr Zaremba, Wprost weekly publicist.

Medical Task Force

Since 2001 the Program supports a Medical Task Force focusing on ethics in public health care. In 2004, the Task Force developed a project of regulations concerning creation of publicly available waiting lists for the rationed medical services. The project was presented to the Minister of Health and the solutions it proposed were incorporated by the Act on Health Care Institutions adopted by the Parliament. The Task Force also developed a checklist that enables to evaluate draft legislative changes in health care laws with respect to corruption threats, and identified the corruption-prone areas in the government draft bill for publicly financed health care debated in the Parliament.

Political responsibility of public persons
discussion panel

On April 7, 2004, we organized a discussion regarding the political responsibility of public persons. The discussion began with a presentation of the Impunity of the political class? report authored by Piotr Koryś from the Warsaw University Department of Economics, constituting a review and summary of corruption scandals revealed in recent years in Poland. Dr Richard Jarvis, secretary of the Committee on Standards in Public Life, presented ways to prevent corruption at the highest levels of power in OECD states, while Prof. Zbigniew Hotda from the Jagiellonian University in Cracow, discussed whether Poland lacks proper legal regulations or, rather, an appropriate culture in public life. Dr. Wojciech Łukowski from the University of Warsaw discussed how to change the prevalent atmosphere of tolerance and acceptance of corruption and its perpetrators. A transcript of the discussion is available at www.przeciw-korupcji.org.pl.

Since 2000, we have been providing a legal counselling for people who have encountered corruption. In 2004, due to the constantly increasing caseload, we invited the network of University Legal Clinics to participate; 7 of the 16 existing clinics agreed to provide legal assistance to clients, while 2 students from the Warsaw University Clinic assist us in the preliminary screening of incoming cases. In 2004, we were asked to help in 132 cases of corruption, as of the end of the year we had helped in 97. The matters in which we intervene frequently require expansive knowledge, including in administrative and business law. The following provide us with pro bono assistance: Andrzej Szeniawski, specialist in local government, Maciej Łaszczuk, lawyer, business law, and Judge Przemysław Szustakiewicz, public procurement law.

Public scrutiny of government at national level

Report on the civil service

For 7 years Poland has been forming a corpus of civil service, which is to be a guaranty for an apolitical, professional set of employees of the public administration. However, the governments violate or circumvent the regulations of Civil Service Act, adopted in 1996. In the report Civil service in the Republic of Poland: critical points, prepared for the Program by Krzysztof Burnetko in 2003, an analysis of the present state of civil service was presented together with the proposals of necessary changes. In 2004, Witold Filipowicz, a public service employee of many years, drafted a report on hiring for lower-level civil service positions and presented it on April 16, 2004 at a seminar for a group of specialists. Cezary Lewanowicz from the European Commission and member of the State School of Administration Alumni Association presented an accompanying paper. The report was critical of the hiring practices for lower-level civil service positions and fomented a lively discussion. The document and a transcript of the discussion were sent to all central government offices, and both chambers of the Parliament.

Anti-corruption strategy monitoring

In September 2002 Polish government adopted an anti-corruption strategy. This document included numerous entries treated as strict obligations: it stated precisely who must do what and in what time-limit. Anti-Corruption Program assumed the monitoring of this strategy. Every 6 months we verify if the government fulfilled the obligations adopted in the strategy and inform the public opinion the result of our findings.

At the end of 2003, the 3rd and final phase of the strategy implementation was completed. However, the government failed to present a report on execution of its tasks. On March 4, 2004, at a press conference, we presented our evaluation of the execution of obligations assumed by the government in the anti-corruption strategy. In our opinion, there were material delays in execution of about 30% of tasks listed in the government document, some of them were not initiated at all. We also had serious reservations as to the qualitative content and sincerity of the execution of many tasks.

International anti-corruption conventions reports

In 2004, we commissioned Celina Nowak from the Legal Studies Institute of the Polish Academy of Sciences to prepare two reports regarding amending Polish law to comply with international conventions regarding corruption. These reports were presented at press conferences on July 1 and December 10, 2004, and were also sent to all deputies' clubs and applicable Parliamentary committees and ministries.

The first report contained an evaluation of the adaptation of Polish legislation to the requirements of three international conventions recently ratified by Poland: ECD Convention on Combating Bribery of Foreign Public

Monitoring of election promises
review conference

Officials in International Business Transactions, Criminal Law Convention on Corruption and the European Council Convention against corruption in civil law. Jerzy Szymański from the State Prosecutor's Office presented a paper accompanying the report.

The second report concerned evaluation of the implementation of the UN Convention Against Corruption, which Poland signed in 2003, and indicated what work should be done for this document to be quickly ratified by our country.

In collaboration with the Helsinki Human Rights Foundation and the Social Communication Foundation we have been reviewing how political parties are fulfilling their pledge to fight corruption made during the parliamentary election campaign in 2001. We organise annual conferences attended by party representatives to evaluate the status of implementation of election promises

Nine political parties attended the conference in 2004. We asked them about corruption scandals publicised by the media in which their members participated and about the way they will be dealt with. The conference was co-organized by Michał Karnowski from Newsweek and Krzysztof Skowroński from Polsat television. A journalist of the www.ngo.pl portal summarised the words of the politicians taking part in the meeting as follows: "Although all politicians deemed corruption to be harmful, there was no such unanimity when evaluating particular scandals. As such, scandals publicised by the media involving their party colleagues were trivialized". A transcript of the discussion can be found at www.przeciw-korupcji.org.pl.

Restrictions on the economy discussion

Licenses and permits required in the Polish economy as factors conducive to corruption were discussed at the seminar organized October 10, 2004. A presentation of the paper Restrictions on the economy by Janusz Paczocha from the National Bank of Poland provided an introduction to the discussion. Jerzy Molak, Director of the Internal Economic Turnover Regulation Department at the Ministry of the Economy and Labour, and attorney Wojciech Błaszczuk, Vice President of the Polish Confederation of Private Business, responded to the thesis presented in the work.

Public scrutiny of government at the local level

Local Civic Groups

In 2000 we initiated the formation of a network of local civic groups to monitor the activity of the authorities and to organize educational campaign for a greater transparency of public life. Each year, we train a group of leaders to deal with monitoring actions of authorities and conduct a campaign on behalf of increased transparency in public life. Training consists of nine meetings, two days each, organized every 4–5 weeks. After completing the training the leaders form Civic Groups to act for the transparency of public life in their local community.

Training of the fourth group of candidates for leaders of Local Groups lasted from October 2003 through September 2004. Participants of this cycle had to prepare an evaluation of their municipality corruption threats and organize a local debate on corruption. 25 persons participated, 16 completed the training. New Local Civic Groups began their operations in Bielawa, Bieruń, Karpacz, Katowice, Kłomnice, Łódź, Morąg, Oświęcim, Płock, Police, Strazów, Stroń Śląski and Tarnowiec. Their activities include: monitoring access to information in local government offices, setting up citizens' helpdesks, outreach, particularly among youth (anti-corruption lessons in schools). In October 2004, we began the fifth and final cycle of trainings, for which 22 people were qualified.

In 2004, we prepared a publication Notes for Local Civic Group leaders which contains materials about corruption, legal regulations, activities taken domestically and abroad to combat corruption and get access to information, about scrutinizing the transparency of local government institutions, as well as information about local activities on behalf of transparency in the functioning of public institutions.

In 2004, we cooperated with the Local Civic Group Leaders Association (registered near the end of 2003), which brings together active leaders of civic groups.

The project initiated and co-funded by Agora S.A. and Polish-American Freedom Foundation aims to launch a social campaign for transparent operation of municipality offices. The World Bank and Civic Education Center cooperate with us in it.

The 2-year project began in November 2003. Sixteen municipalities from all Polish provinces took part in the first project stage, which was executed along with the Foundation of Local Democracy Development. Local governments participating in the campaign were implementing a Model of Transparent Municipality prepared by the Anti-Corruption Program and based on six principles for the functioning of an office: transparency, predictability, accountability, professionalism, public participation and zero tolerance for corruption.

The second project phase, open to local governments in all of Poland, began in October 2004. It is accompanied by a Transparent Poland public campaign run by the Gazeta Wyborcza daily. In the campaign, we encourage representatives of local governments to introduce at least some of the tenets of the Transparent Municipality Model. We prepared minimum, standard and full task packets. Members of the Local Civic Group Leaders Association, amongst other, monitor realization thereof.

Transparent Town Halls conference

We work with the Czech, Slovak and Hungarian offices of Transparency International to build a coalition of officials, councillors and NGO leaders towards implementing transparency into local government offices in capital cities of the Visegrad countries. Each year the representatives of the cities meet to share the knowledge and experience and develop and commit to implement an anti-corruption action plan.

In 2004, a conference was held in Warsaw. It was opened with a report on the execution of pledges made by the representatives of four capitals a year prior. Officials from Warsaw's city hall informed about the opening of Customer Service Offices between January and May 2004 in five city districts and their intention to open another four in 2005. However, Warsaw did not meet one of its obligations from the previous meeting: it adopted neither a city council member code nor a local government employee code. The Warsaw Civic Group presented a project of transparent rules for subsidising NGOs from public funds. The conference program also included 5 workshops in which issues related to social control of public procurement, internal control, conflict of interest, as well as the challenges and opportunities related to accession to the European Union were discussed. The Czech chapter of Transparency International presented the results of Transparency index of cities sociological research. Conference participants made new obligations for 2005.

Equal Opportunities Program

The Program assists local organisations working to enhance access to education for young people from small towns and impoverished communities, as well as those striving to counteract social exclusion of physically and mentally disabled children by providing them with education and personal development opportunities.

Local Scholarship Programs

The project, carried on from 2000, aims at assisting the establishment of an alternative scholarships system for young people wishing to continue high-school education. In pursuing this initiative, we hope to assist talented youth from low-income families by putting in place new mechanisms for financing scholarships that base on local resources. The local scholarship funds established with our assistance raise money for scholarship grants from local businesses, individual donors, and the local governments. Such funds operate on the basis of their own charters, drawn up by special scholarship committees; the scholarships awarded by them, varying between PLN 50 and 250 per month, are used to purchase textbooks and other learning aides, to pay for lodging, extra courses, commuting to school, etc. The decision to award a scholarship is usually based on the applicant's school record and the financial standing of her/his family, sometimes also involvement in the work for community and achievements in other non-academic pursuits.

In 2004 the project involved 34 organizations from 14 provinces. The Foundation provided them with training in the area of establishment, management, and promotion of scholarship programs, raising and administration of funds, and building local coalitions. Upon meeting the condition of raising a declared amount of funds from local resources, each organization received a grant from the Stefan Batory Foundation towards increase of the scholarship fund. In 2004 the organizations participating in the project raised PLN 930 901 in local communities. This amount increased by grants awarded by the Stefan Batory Foundation in the amount of PLN 591 300 (including PLN 75 150 from Levi Strauss & Co.) supported 1343 monthly scholarships in the school year 2003/2004. As a result of 2200 people donating 1% of their income tax to us in 2004, we have secured funds not only for already existing scholarship programs but have been able to invite eight new organizations to participate in the project in year 2004–2005.

Rainbow Academy

This project targets organizations that operate in small towns and rural areas and engage in activities to assist mentally and physically disabled children. The ultimate purpose is to improve the children's opportunities for education, and to overcome their social exclusion. The grants are awarded on a competitive basis to organizations operating in locations with a population below 20 000.

In 2004 competition grants were awarded for projects which help disabled children to acquire knowledge and abilities, enable them to take part in cultural events and art therapy and contribute to the integration of disabled children with their peers and their community. We offered priority to projects which were part of long-term efforts, relied on work with the local community and involved volunteers and the families of needy children.

Grants were co-funded by Commercial Union Poland (PLN 85 000), and by the M Fund established by a private donor (PLN 68 000).

Commercial Union Charitable Fund

For the past nine years, the Foundation has been cooperating with the insurance company Commercial Union Poland, which has been providing us with donations to support the disabled, children and youth. In 2004, from the Commercial Union's funds we made 30 grants for integration and education of disabled children projects (grants are listed and described below under the Rainbow Academy section).

The Foundation manages also Commercial Union Charitable Fund used to finance endeavours identified by the donor, involving support for the sick and needy people, as well as support to educational projects.

In 2002, thanks to a donation made to the Foundation by a private donor, an endowed donor's advised Fund was established. Income generated by the Fund is annually spent for various forms of assistance to needy children. In 2004, M Fund earnings were used to finance 15 grants for integration and education of disabled children projects (grants are listed and described below under the Rainbow Academy section).

In line with the wish of the M Fund founder a part of the annual earnings on the investment of the Fund was allocated to the purposes identified by the donor involving support for sick children and children in need of care.

Helen and Peter Maxwell Fund

The Foundation administers Helen and Peter Maxwell Fund, established to support on the annual basis projects aiming to provide equal educational opportunities for children and youth from Siedlce town and county.

International Cooperation Program

European Union Enlargement changes the character of Poland's relations with its eastern neighbours. On one hand, introducing visas for Belarus, Ukraine and Russia has created a barrier in mutual contacts and may result in a growing feeling of exclusion from the common Europe in those societies. On the other hand, the enlargement process increases the chances for active policy of the enlarged European Union in relation to its new members in the East; policy that supports the development of democracy, civil society and closer bonds with the united Europe and does not exclude the perspective of those countries' future membership in the EU. Therefore, in cooperation with pro-European elites of those countries we have presented the concepts of developing closer relations of this region of Europe with the UE, we have supported the idea of open border between the member states and the countries aspiring to the UE membership and we have held a debate on the common historical heritage of our part of Europe.

The Orange Revolution in Ukraine was a tremendous triumph for Ukrainian civil society. Even those of us working with Ukraine for many years were not aware of that civil society's latent vitality and strength. The spontaneous movement for solidarity with Ukrainian democracy was important for future Polish-Ukrainian relations and we took efforts to contribute to it by providing election observers.

We continued activities regarding the preparation of Polish third sector to take advantage of European funds and for functioning in the united Europe. We have worked also to increase Poland's activity in the international assistance efforts.

The program activities in 2004 were co-financed by the Open Society Institute East-East Network Program (PLN 244 346,14), Polish-American-Ukrainian Cooperation Initiative – PLN 46 175,36 for the New European Union and Ukraine project, Canadian International Development Agency – Official Development Assistance in Central Europe CIDA-ODACE, Dialog Development NGOs in the Enlarged EU, Vienna and Concord European NGO Confederation for Relief and Development, Brussels – PLN 48 316,30 for activities of the Polish NGO Abroad Group. The New Geopolitics of Central and Eastern Europe. Between the European Union and United States Conference was co-financed by the Robert Bosch Foundation and Oracle Poland (PLN 83 975,67); support was also provided by the Embassy of France and Hines Poland.

International conferences

On May 7–8, 2004, in cooperation with the German International Affairs and Security Institute of the Science and Policy Foundation (SWP) from Berlin and the European Studies Centre at St. Anthony's College, Oxford University, we organized an international conference in Warsaw with the participation of renowned intellectuals, experts, current and former politicians and high-ranking officials of the European Union.

Four panel discussions sought to answer what the intellectual and political as well as historical identifications of Central and Eastern Europe are in the context of its geopolitical position between Russia and Germany? Is the USA interested in continued European integration? What is the role of the "New Europe" in the European strategy of the US and in the American policy with respect to Russia, Ukraine, Belarus and Moldova? In what direction should NATO evolve? What is the attitude toward Euro-Atlantic relations in Western Europe as compared to Central and Eastern Europe? Should the European Union expand, and if so, to include what states? What are interests, aspirations and expectations of Central and Eastern European states within the European Union? On the second day of the conference, Henry Kissinger, former US Secretary of State, gave a special lecture New challenges facing America and Europe.

The following took part in the conference: Christoph Bertram (Director of the Stiftung für Wissenschaft und Politik, Berlin), David P. Calleo (Johns Hopkins University, Washington), Robert Cooper (General Director for Foreign and Political-Military Affairs, Secretariat General of the Council of Europe, Brussels), Timothy Garton Ash (Director of the European Studies Centre at St. Anthony's College, Oxford University), Bronisław Geremek (former Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Poland, Director of the European Civilization Faculty at the European College in Natolin), Heather Grabbe (Research Director, European Reform Centre, London), Elemér Hankiss (Research Director, Political Science Institute, Hungarian Academy of Sciences, Budapest), Pierre Hassner (Centre for International Studies and Research CERI, Paris), Danuta Hübner (member of European Commission, Brussels), Ken Jowitt (University of California at Berkeley), Ivan Krastev (Director of Liberal Strategy Centre, Sofia), Marcin Król (Dean of Applied Social Sciences and Rehabilitation, Warsaw University), Dominique Moïsi (Vice Director of the French International Affairs Institute IFRI, Paris), Andrzej Olechowski (former Foreign Affairs Minister of the Republic of Poland, Director of Studium Generale Europa), Adam D. Rotfeld (Secretary of State at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs), Jacques Rupnik (Research Director, Centre for International Studies and Research CERI, Paris), Anne-Marie Slaughter (Dean of the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, Princeton University), Timothy Snyder (Yale University) and numerous speakers from Central and Eastern Europe: Bulgaria, Czech Republic, Estonia, Lithuania, Romania, Slovakia, and Hungary.

Conference materials were published in Przegląd Polityczny monthly (Polish version). English version with the texts of all speeches given during the session was published in New Geopolitics of Central and Eastern Europe. Between the European Union and United States publication.

New European Union and Ukraine

The goal of this project, launched in 2002, is to evaluate relations between the European Union and Ukraine, analyze the impact Union enlargement will have on these relations as well as the development of possible strategies and specific solutions regarding relations between the enlarged Union and Ukraine, which became its direct neighbour in 2004. In 2004, our activities concerned relations between the enlarged European Union and Ukraine and Ukrainian presidential election.

More than Neighbours. The Enlarged European Union and Ukraine report

In cooperation with partners from Ukraine, Poland and other states, we prepared a series of political, social and economic analyses, which were used in two of our publications: More than Neighbours. The Enlarged European Union and Ukraine – New Relations. Final Report as well as More than Neighbours. The Enlarged European Union and Ukraine – New Relations. Policy Paper. Both publications garnered extensive interest from politicians, experts and journalists from Ukraine, Poland and other EU member states.

On February 13, 2004, at the Centre for European Policy Studies in Brussels, we organized a presentation of the Final Report. The following took part in the meeting: Günter Verheugen, EU Commissioner for Enlargement and the Polish and Ukrainian vice ministers of foreign affairs: Jan Truszczyński and Oleh Shamshur. The following took part as panellists: Olexiy Haran (School of Political Analysis of Kyiv-Mohylan Academy, Kyiv), Małgorzata Jakubiak (Centre for Social and Economic Research, Warsaw), Katarzyna Wolczuk (Centre for Russian and East European Studies, University of Birmingham), Alexander Duleba (Slovak Foreign Policy Association, Bratislava), Marius Vahl (Centre for European Policy Studies, Brussels), Igor Burakovsky (Institute for Economic Research and Policy Consulting, Kyiv), Oleksandr Sushko (Centre for Peace, Conversion and Foreign Policy of Ukraine), Jakub Boratyński and Grzegorz Gromadzki (Batory Foundation, Warsaw). About 130 people took part in the meeting, including employees of the Council of Europe, European Commission, diplomats, experts, representatives of NGOs and journalists.

On March 26–27, 2004, the EU Relations with Ukraine: A Visegrad Perspective conference was held in Bratislava, organized by the Slovak Foreign Policy Association (SFPA) and the Batory Foundation. The following spoke on the first day of the conference: Peter Ptassek, representative of the Wider Europe Task Force, persons engaged in projects concerning EU relations with Ukraine: Jakub Boratyński, Grzegorz Gromadzki and Marius Vahl (Batory Foundation project), Iryna Solonenko (East-West Institute project), Iris Kempe (Centre for Applied Policy Research project) and Alexander Duleba (SFPA). The results of Union enlargement for the Carpathian Euroregion were presented by Vladimir Bilcik (SFPA). On the second day of the conference, a discussion chaired by Pavol Demeš (German Marshall Fund) was held concerning the possible forms of cooperation and assistance that Visegrad states can offer Ukraine.

On March 31 in Rzeszów, April 1 in Lublin and April 2 in Warsaw, we organized a series of presentations of the More than Neighbours report with the participation of some of the report's authors (Jakub Boratyński, Grzegorz Gromadzki, Oleksij Haran, Iryna Kravtshuk, Oleksandr Sushko, Marius Vahl, Katarzyna Wolczuk, Przemysław Żurawski vel Grajewski). Each of the presentations consisted of four sessions devoted to the report's main themes: Ukrainian strategy for integration with the EU, European Union policy toward Ukraine, the role of new member states in a EU–Ukrainian relations, main areas of integration. In Lublin and Rzeszów, there were additional sessions presenting the results of research concerning Polish–Ukrainian relations and expectations related to Poland's accession to the EU (research results were presented by Anna Gąsior-Niemiec and Mirosław Bieniecki from the Polish Academy of Sciences as well as Joanna Konieczna from the Sociology Institute at the University of Warsaw). The presentation in Rzeszów was prepared in cooperation with the College of Information Technology and Management, and in Lublin by the Central and Eastern Europe Institute. About 200 representatives of Polish state institutions, local authorities, academic circles, NGOs, experts involved with Union and Ukrainian issues as well as Polish and foreign press took part in the meetings.

On May 13, 2004 at the Chatham House (Royal Institute of International Affairs) in London, during the The Enlarged European Union and Ukraine: New Relations seminar, which garnered experts from institutions involved with international relations, academics, journalists and diplomats, the More than Neighbours report was presented by its three authors: Jakub Boratyński, Grzegorz Gromadzki and Kataryna Wolczuk. Over 130 people took part in the meeting.

In May and June 2004, we organized a cycle of presentations in eastern and western Ukraine of the The More than Neighbours. Final Report and Policy Paper with the participation of some of the report's authors (Jakub Boratyński, Grzegorz Gromadzki, Oleksiy Haran, Iryna Kravchuk, Oleksandr Sushko, Marius Vahl, Kataryna Wolczuk, Przemysław Żurawski vel Grajewski): in Kyiv (May 26), Donetsk (May 27), Dnipropetrovsk (28 May), Charkiv (May 29), Ivanofrankivsk (June 24), Uzhorod (June 25) and Lviv (June 26). About 550 people took part in the meetings: Ukrainian politicians and state officials, representatives of the administration, local government, NGOs and academic circles, journalists and students. The Ukrainian Renaissance Foundation was the co-organizer of the presentation in Charkiv, the most successful of all in Eastern Ukraine. The presentation in Lviv took place during the conference concerning relations between Ukraine and the EU, organized by the Ji magazine.

We prepared two reports: Ukraine at a Crossroads. The Presidential Elections 2004 containing possible scenarios for Ukraine after the elections and Ukraine and the EU after the Orange Revolution, which was drafted during the heated period of the Orange Revolution and was another attempt at analyzing Ukraine's future in light of current events. An international team prepared the reports: Grzegorz Gromadzki (Batory Foundation), Kataryna Wolczuk (University of Birmingham), Roman Wolczuk (University of Wolverhampton), Oleksandr Suszko (Centre for Peace, Conversion and Foreign Policy of Ukraine, Kyiv) and Marius Vahl (Centre for European Policy Studies, Brussels).

On May 20, 2004, jointly with the Centre for Eastern Studies, we organized an expert meeting with the participation of representatives from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Chancellery of the President and Prime Minister, at which we discussed what Poland, as a member of the EU, could do on behalf of Ukraine. One of the results of this meeting was a draft of declaration supporting Ukraine's European aspirations and calling upon the authorities of that state to respect democratic election principles. Moreover, in October–December, jointly with the Centre for Eastern Studies, we organized 5 seminars with the participation of experts and representatives from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to discuss Poland's position in the EU regarding eastern policy. The dominating theme was the presidential election in Ukraine.

On September 10, 2004, at the Economic Forum in Krynica, we prepared a discussion panel Action Plan European Union – Ukraine: groundbreaking or seeming? The following took part: Boris Tarasyuk, Chair of the Ukrainian Highest Council for European Affairs, Kai-Olaf Lang, expert from Berlin's Stiftung Wissenschaft und Politik, and Grzegorz Gromadzki from the Batory Foundation. About 100 people took part in the panel moderated by Jakub Boratyński.

On October 12, 2004, in Brussels – in cooperation with Janusz Onyszkiewicz, Vice Chair of the European Parliament, and Bogdan Klich, deputy to the European Parliament, as well as the Centre for International Studies and the Strategic Studies Centre – we organized a seminar at which Oleksandr Sushko, Kataryna Wolczuk, Roman Wolczuk and Grzegorz Gromadzki presented the theses of Ukraine at the Crossroads. The Presidential Elections 2004 report. In the discussion with the participation of Oleh Rybachuk, a deputy to the Ukrainian Parliament, one of Victor Yushchenko's closest associates, the possible scenario for Ukrainian reform was considered as was the future of its foreign policy, especially the development of Ukraine – EU relations if Victor Yushchenko wins the election.

On November 8, 2004, in Warsaw, we organized a public discussion: Ukrainian Elections. The meeting was held during the heated period after the first round of presidential elections. We invited experts from Ukraine to take part in the discussion: Kost' Bondarenko (Director of the Social Processes Research Centre, expert from Kyiv), Victoria Sereda (sociologist, Lviv University) and Oleksandr Sushko (Director of the Peace, Conversion and Ukrainian Foreign Policy Centre in Kyiv). Jakub Boratyński from the Batory Foundation moderated the discussion. Lecturers commented the course of the election campaign in particular Ukrainian regions and presented scenarios for development of the situation in Ukraine. About 80 people took part in the meeting.

European Choice for Belarus

In 2002, we launched a project, which aims to initiate cooperation of independent Belarusian experts in developing recommendations concerning directions of change in Belarus and their dissemination among Belarusian elites and opinion-leading circles in the EU. The results of the experts' work were published in Belarus: Scenarios for Reform presenting possible scenarios of future democratic and pro-European reforms in Belarus. The work was published in three languages: Belarusian, Russian and English.

In the fall of 2003, the publication was presented in Minsk and Warsaw. In 2004, we focused on dissemination of the publication in Belarus and among opinion-leading circles in the European Union.

In cooperation with the Belarusian Schuman Association, we prepared 10 meetings in 4 Belarusian districts (Minsk District: Vileyka, Borysov, Maladechno; Vitebsk District: Vitebsk, Haradok; Brest District: Byarozha, Brest, Luniniec; Mohylev District: Mohylev, Babruysk). Nearly 300 people took part in these meetings: representatives of local authorities, political parties, NGOs, teachers, journalists and business people. Reports on the meetings were published in 12 articles in the local press.

On November 15, 2004, in cooperation with the Bertelsmann Foundation and the Open Society Institute in Brussels, we organized a discussion in Brussels: A Place for Belarus in Europe: Challenges and Opportunities within the European Neighbourhood Policy. In addition to experts and representatives of European institutions and member states (including Hans Georg Wiecek, former OSCE representative in Minsk), the following Belarusian politicians and experts took part in the meeting: Vincuk Viachorka (head of the Belarusian National Front), Vital Silicki (independent political scientist, co-author of the Belarus: Scenarios for Reform publication), Uladzislau Vialichka (Representative of the Union of Pro-Democratic Belarusian NGOs) and Olga Karach (independent representative in the Vitebsk city council). The result of the discussion was development of recommendations regarding, among other things, establishment of a special fund to support democracy in Belarus. The recommendations were forwarded to the European Commission, Council of the European Union, European Parliament and representatives of EU member states. Some recommendations were taken into account during the meeting of the European Commission on November 22, 2004.

On December 8, 2004, in cooperation with the Stiftung Wissenschaft und Politik, we organized a meeting in Berlin regarding future European Union policy toward Ukraine and Belarus in light of current political events in these states: presidential elections in Ukraine and parliamentary elections and constitutional referendum in Belarus. The main assumption of the meeting was to find an answer to the question of how the European Union should react to the development of events beyond its eastern border. 40 experts, analysts and decision makers from Union circles took part in the meeting.

Monitoring of the Openness of Polish Eastern Borders

Friendly EU Border

The project conducted since 2002 by the Batory Foundation jointly with the Helsinki Foundation for Human Rights aims to promote the idea of a friendly and open eastern border of the European Union. In 2004, we completed the monitoring of Poland's visa policy, which we had begun a year earlier in an attempt to evaluate the effectiveness of procedures for issuing Polish visas and their compliance with official declarations assuring simplified visa procedures for neighbours from the East. In addition to Collegium Civitas, which coordinated sociological research, the following partnership organizations from cities with Polish consulates took part in the project: Centre for Peace, Conversion and Foreign Policy of Ukraine, Kyiv; Kovcheg Association of Support for Civic Initiatives, Odessa; Charkiv Human Rights Protection Group; European Dialogue, Lviv; Volyn Youth Rights Protection Association, Lutsk; Regiomonti Regional Social Organisation for Kaliningrad; Moscow Helsinki Group; St. Petersburg Centre for Humanities and Political Studies Strategy and three organizations from Belarus.

At the outset of the year, trainings for partner organizations and pollsters were held in Lviv, Brest, Kaliningrad, Moscow and St. Petersburg. In February and March, the trained pollsters conducted research among persons seeking Polish visas and interviewed employees of consular offices in Ukraine, Belarus and the European part of Russia (training and research was covered from grants made by Batory Foundation). In April, a meeting was held in Warsaw with the participation of representatives of all partner organizations at which we presented the preliminary research results, recommendations and evaluation of hitherto cooperation. In June, we published the research report entitled Monitoring Polish Visa Policy.

On June 30, 2004, a public presentation of the report took place in Warsaw with the participation of the following, amongst other: Danuta Przywara and Bartłomiej Tokarz (Helsinki Foundation for Human Rights), Leszek Chajewski (Collegium Civitas), Denis Torhov (St. Petersburg Centre for Humanities and Political Studies Strategy), Leonid Kalicenia (Center for Social Innovation from Minsk), Dr. Oleksandr Sushko (Center for Peace, Conversion and Foreign Policy of Ukraine, Kyiv); Prof. Edmund Wnuk-Lipinski (Political Science Institute of the Polish Academy of Science) and Maciej Szymanski (Vice Director of the Consular and Polonia Department of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Poland).

The report was also presented at the conferences organized by the Polish Ministry of Foreign Affairs regarding the results of introduction of visas by Poland (August 10 in Lviv and November 15 in Moscow).

On November 17, 2004, in conjunction with the Centre for European Policy Studies in Brussels, we organized a seminar devoted to the future of European visa policy. Members of the EU visa policy working group, consisting of representatives from member states, took part. At the seminar, we presented the results of monitoring and recommendations concerning improvement of visa policy for the Union's eastern neighbours.

Competition for the media

As part of the Monitoring the Openness of Poland's Eastern Borders project, we announced a competition for press publications and radio pieces devoted to the situation on Poland's eastern borders after the introduction of a visa requirement. The contest jury consisting of Dr. Irena Rzeplińska (Helsinki Foundation for Human Rights), Jacek Fuglewicz (Polish Public Radio Channel I Program Director), Dr. Gerhard Gnauck (Die Welt correspondent, Jury Chair), Jarosław Kurski (Gazeta Wyborcza), Dr. Stanisław Mocek (Collegium Civitas) and Volodimir Pavliv (Ukrainian section of Radio Free Europe) awarded prizes to the following journalists:

Friendly Border competition

Katarzyna Michalak – award for the radio piece Eden beyond a narrow river broadcast by Regional Polish Radio in Lublin (PLN 3000),

Marek Cynkar – award for the report Restraining envy broadcast by Radio Rzeszów (PLN 2000),

Jagienka Wilczak – award for the article Visas for hard currency published in the Polityka weekly (PLN 2500),

Tadeusz Szewczyk – award for the report Shadows over the crossing and a cycle of articles about the situation at border crossings with Ukraine published in the Gazeta Bieszczadzka (PLN 2500),

Jan Płaskoń – honourable mention for the article Tomorrow under the stars in Panorama Opolska

Monika Karpowicz – honourable mention for the article Last Belarusian published in the Przegląd Sejneński bi-weekly,

Dariusz Chajewski – honourable mention for the article Right before the West published in the Gazeta Lubuska, Jarostaw Iwaniuk and Jerzy Leszczyński – honourable mention for the report Under different pines broadcast in Polish Radio Białystok.

In 2004, in cooperation with the East-East Program, we organized the Friendly Border competition, the aim of which was to support local coalitions active on behalf of establishing new border crossings, improvement of technical infrastructure and equipping existing border crossings. Three projects that received grants concerned: preparation of analyses regarding border crossings, organization of public discussions, cultural and tourist events publicising coalition postulates and promoting the idea of a friendly border.

Neighbourly cooperation

Journalists Club: Belarus, Poland, Ukraine

The project is addressed to journalists of the regional press from Belarus, Poland and Ukraine and includes a cycle of study and workshop visits, which are to serve establishing contacts and exchange of information, increasing the number of press publications devoted to the countries of this region and, as a result, breaking existing prejudices and stereotypes. The Club has been active since 2001.

Two journalists meetings were held in 2004. The first of those (Szczecin, Frankfurt-Oder, August 8–13) were devoted to social issues in the Polish-German trans-border region. The state of cooperation of local government authorities, business, border services and the police of both states, as well as specific initiatives serving to increase cooperation in various areas, e.g. Viadrina University or dialogue with expelled Germans. For the first time, the visit was co-organized by the Polish-German Club Against Stereotypes. The second meeting (Odessa, December 8–10) presented economic and social problems of the region as well as organizations acting on behalf of combating them, such as The way home (preventing child homelessness), Faith, hope, love (preventing trade in human cargo) or White Angel (integration of the disabled). The problems of refugees were also taken up.

The main organizer of the meetings was the Meridian Information Research Center from Lviv, directed by one of the Journalists Club members, Oleksandr Lavrynovich. Journalists from the following publications took part: Belarusian – Birzha Informacii (Grodno), Brestskij Kurier (Brest), Info-Kurier (Slutsk), Inform-Progulka (Luninets), Intex-Press (Baranoviche), Kurier iz Borysova (Borysov), Vitebskiy Kurier (Vitebsk); Polish – Nowiny (Rzeszów), Tygodnik Powszechny (Cracow), Polish-German Magazine Dialog (Szczecin); Ukrainian – Delowaja Odessa (Odessa), Halychyna (Ivanofrankivsk), Ilicheviac (Mariupol), Interfax-Ukraine (Odessa), Naddniprianska Pravda (Kherson), Nova Ternopilaska Hazeta (Ternopil), Radio Svoboda (Donetsk), Starij Zamok (Uzhorod), Territoria (Odessa), Uradoviy Kurier (Rivne), Vikno (Chernihiv), Vilne Slovo (Zhytomyr), Vriemia Che (Odessa), Vysokij Zamok (Lviv).

Friendly Neighbourhood Forum: Lithuania, Kaliningrad District, Poland

As of 2000, as part of the Friendly Neighbourhood Forum project, we have been conducting activities on behalf of developing cooperation among various circles of the Kaliningrad District, Poland and Lithuania. The main partners in the project are: the Elbląg Association for NGO Initiative Support and Borussia Cultural Community Association from Olsztyn. As part of the program, an informal coalition of various circles was formed (local government, cultural and academic institutions, NGOs and economic associations) from the Varmia and Mazury and Pomerania Provinces interested in working with the Kaliningrad District. Seven working groups consisting of representatives from Poland and Russia worked on common positions and proposals of systemic solutions serving development of cooperation. The groups were involved with the following areas: youth, trans-border entrepreneurship, civic organizations, culture, tourism and the hotel industry, cooperation of local governments and environmental protection. Numerous meetings and seminars were held as part of the project, the Forum bulletin was published, as were inserts to regional newspapers.

On October 14–15, 2004, an international conference Toward the future was organized by Forum in Elbląg with the participation of representatives of regional and local authorities, Kaliningrad District authorities, the Polish consul in Kaliningrad, the Ambassador of Lithuania in Poland, the Ambassador of Poland in Vilnius, as well as NGO activists, representatives of education institutions and business from Poland and the District. During the conference, in which about 300 people participated, there was discussion on up-to-date cooperation experiences and expectations for the future. Among other things, a complex report on cooperation with the Kaliningrad District was presented, which was financed from Foundation grants and prepared by the Borussia Association. 11 thematic workshops were held during the conference, including 7 prepared by working groups, from which conclusions and postulates were then presented at the plenary conference.

Displaced Cultural Property

Since 2002, we have operated a project devoted to the issue of missing or displaced cultural assets, which in the result of wars and border shifts were moved to the territory of other state. The project aims to stimulate public discourse on this controversial subject that has been passed over in silence for many years, and contribute to the process of developing a common position by the states of Central and Eastern Europe in that regard.

On May 28–29, 2004, we organized a seminar Property and cultural assets. The meeting was devoted to the ownership situation of cultural assets in Poland after 1989 (private property, problem of re-privatization, property of social institutions and churches).

The lecturers included: Andrzej Dąbrowski (library science specialist, Kielce Provincial Public Library), Nawojka Cieślińska-Lobkowicz (art historian, Forum for Dispersed Cultural Assets, Warsaw), Dorota Folga-Januszewska (art historian, National Museum, Warsaw), Dariusz Grot (archivist, Central Directorate of State Archives, Warsaw), Urszula Grygiel (library science specialist, Jewish Historical Institute, Warsaw), Agnieszka Jaskanis (art historian, State Archaeological Museum, Warsaw), Paweł Jaskanis (art historian, Museum-Palace in Wilanow, Warsaw), Adolf Juzwenko (historian, Ossoliński National Facility, Wrocław), Edyta Kotyńska (library science specialist, University of Wrocław Library), Krzysztof Kornacki (museologist, Zamoyski Museum in Kozłowka), Hanna Łaskarzewska (library science specialist, National Library, Warsaw), Zbigniew Pietrzyk (historian, Jagiellonian Library, Cracow), Andrzej Rottermund (art historian, Royal Castle in Warsaw), Władysław Stępiak (historian, Central Directorate of State Archives, Warsaw), Wojciech Suchocki (art historian, National Museum, Poznań), Mirosław Supruniuk (literature historian, Nicolai Copernicus University Library in Torun), Magdalena Tarnowska (historian, Jewish Historical Institute, Warsaw), Stanisław Waltoś (attorney, Jagiellonian University, Cracow), and Krzysztof Zamorski (historian, Jagiellonian University, Cracow).

In cooperation with the Trio Publishing House, we published a selection of texts in Polish and English devoted to issues of plundered or transferred cultural goods during World War II: Displaced cultural property. The case of Western Europe and the problems of Central and Eastern European states in the 20th century. The authors, attorneys, historians and art historians from Germany, Lithuania, Poland, Russia, Ukraine and Hungary presented the situation in Central and Eastern Europe after 1989, international legal regulation of the issue as well as the public discourse surrounding displaced cultural assets.

Polish NGOs Abroad

Since the spring of 2001, the Foundation has taken part in work initiated with our involvement by a coalition of Polish NGOs working abroad. The goals of the Polish NGO Abroad Group are: exchange of information between NGOs active abroad, cooperation with public administration, participation in formulating and implementing Polish aid policy, cooperation with related associations in other states, as well as dissemination of information about the activity of Polish NGOs abroad and seeking public support for such. The NGO Abroad Group uses an internet page at www.zagranica.ngo.pl to inform about its activities abroad. In 2004, the Group was registered as the union of associations with the membership of 23 organizations.

In 2004, Group representatives took part in work of the Council for Cooperation with NGOs of the Minister of Foreign Affairs of Poland. As part of the dialogue with the MFA, the Group consulted the Framework plan of aid activities by the MFA for 2004 and the draft bill for the Act on Polish cooperation for development, and its representative took part as an observer in the discussions of the grant commission for NGO projects implemented in states undergoing transformation and developing countries.

Group Representatives also took part in the annual Economic Forum in Krynica, where they presented the achievements of Polish NGOs active in Central and Eastern Europe and Central Asia, and in January and February 2004 they took part in the 7th Inter-Governmental Polish-Ukrainian European Integration Conference.

In June, upon the initiative of the Batory Foundation, the NGO Abroad Group sent a letter to the Polish authorities with an appeal for Poland to make an active effort on the EU forum to accept a common declaration regarding Ukraine. The letter was accompanied by a draft declaration, which, on the one hand responded to Ukraine's European aspirations while also underscoring the need to respect democratic aspirations during presidential elections. At the outset of September, the NGO Abroad Group publicly made an appeal to authorities, backed by Tadeusz Mazowiecki, former Polish Prime Minister, and former Polish ministers of foreign affairs, calling for immediate activities enabling numerous Poles to participate as election observers in Ukraine. After the sham second round of Ukrainian elections, the NGO Abroad Group got involved together with the Free Ukraine initiative and other NGOs in establishing the Polish Observation Mission, as part of which over 200 people monitored the repeated second round in the Charkiv District.

On June 24–26, 2004, a seminar on assistance activity in peace-building was organized jointly with the Canadian International Development Agency – Official Development Assistance in Central Europe. Representatives of analogous coalitions from Hungary and Slovakia took part in the seminar. In September, in cooperation with the Trialog project, three-day workshops for members of the NGO Abroad Group were held on project planning methods.

Polish NGO Office in Brussels

The Polish NGO Office in Brussels, initiated and supported by the Batory Foundation, is a joint undertaking of several organizations, with the Association for the Forum on Non-Governmental Initiatives as the main partner in the implementation. The Office aims to assist NGOs to actively participate in the process of European integration, promote the Polish third sector among European institutions and initiate cooperation with NGO networks functioning in the Union. The Office has active offices in Brussels and Warsaw. It cooperates with Polish and Czech members of the European Economic and Social Committee and with members of the Public Benefit Activity Council at the Minister of Social Policy.

In 2004, the Office was active on behalf of assuring NGOs the broadest possible financing opportunities from European fund. It promoted the idea of providing structural funds (global grants) for distribution by NGOs and introduction of the same solutions for Norwegian and European Economic Area (EEA) funds (block grants). The office began ongoing exchange of information and experience with newly elected Euro-deputies, especially promoting global grants and the principle of partnership, as well as working on behalf of changes in Union financial regulations, which fundamentally hinder access by smaller organizations to Union funds. In 2004, the NGO Office took part in the work of the European Social Finance Office – an initiative of social economy banks.

Twin Cities Program

The Twin Cities Program is a joint Polish-German and Czech-German program carried out by the Batory Foundation since 2002 in partnership with the Robert Bosch Foundation in Germany and NGO Information Centre in the Czech Republic. The program, initiated and financed by the Robert Bosch Foundation, aims to develop and encourage cooperation between twinned cities, towns and municipalities in neighbouring countries through support of joint projects and activities of local organizations on both sides of the border.

Both Poland and the Czech Republic have several hundred Polish-German and Czech-German twin towns and municipalities. Local authorities sign agreements, and are the key entity in defining the form of partner relations, sometimes indeed involving actual and effective cooperation, albeit sometimes being no more than an artificial paper entry. As part of the Twin Cities Program – implemented simultaneously in Poland and the Czech Republic – we encourage non-governmental organisations to take action to boost cooperation between twin towns and municipalities. Such action bring authentic cooperation between citizens of neighbouring states, activate local communities, and better cooperation with the local government.

In Poland, the Program targets Polish non-governmental organizations operating in towns and municipalities that have partnership agreements with their German counterparts. In 2004, in the third edition of the program, the organizations could apply for grants to support projects implemented in collaboration with German organizations from twin towns and municipalities. Projects might concern various areas of public life, though they should respond to the actual needs of local communities and utilize mutual experiences of the partners.

Grants were awarded on a competitive basis, with an international jury of Polish, Czech, and German experts supervising the two-tier application assessment procedure. As a result of the competition, in 2004, 32 Polish-German and 12 Czech-German projects received funding.

Most of the Polish-German cooperation projects came from Western Poland, especially Lower Silesia, some of them were of overtly transborder character. However, there were also several from the territories far-off the Polish-German border, Lublin, among others. The awarded Polish projects span a vast array of activities: from ecological education of youth, promotion of professional activity of women in a united Europe, to the projects devoted to the cultivation and caretaking of common historic venues, organization of cultural or sports events serving the purpose of overcoming national stereotypes and prejudices and involving large community groups from both partner towns or cities.

In May in Krzyżowa a trilateral meeting of representatives of the Program grantees was organized. The meeting provided an opportunity for Polish, German and Czech partners to present the projects, share experience gained during their implementation and participate in the workshops on intercultural communication, fundraising, promotion and international projects management.

Citizens in Action Program

The program, planned for 2003–2009, is financed from the Ford Foundation’s funds. It aims to support democratic changes and the development of civil society in Belarus and Ukraine. Program goals are executed through: building a network of NGOs in Belarus and Ukraine, which are interested in supporting local civil initiatives and building partnership among NGOs and private and public institutions; dissemination of “interest representation” as a way for common activity to solve important social problems and protect the rights of particular citizens or social groups; support of local projects concerning civic and European education, informational and research projects concerning civil society, as well as projects for cooperation at the domestic and international levels.

The fundamental method of program activities is providing grants to Belarusian and Ukrainian NGOs selected in open competition or invited individually to apply for grants. In addition, the Foundation enables Belarusian and Ukrainian organizations to participate in study visits, meetings and trainings organized in Belarus and Ukraine as well as in Poland and other states.

The first competition resolved in 2004 was addressed to NGOs from three Belarusian districts: Brest, Mogilev, Vitebsk and seven Ukrainian: Chernihiv, Lugansk, Rivne, Vinnica, Zaporozhe, Zhytomyr and Donetsk. During the two-tier competition procedure, a team of assistants from Poland visited each of the organizations and helped to identify needs and opportunities for activity; we also checked the organizations’ financial management and bookkeeping. Of the 96 organizations that had filed letters of intent, 29 were invited to submit grant applications. Of those, a commission consisting of, amongst other, representatives of other donors active in Belarus and Ukraine, selected 14 partner organizations to receive grants for program activity and institutional development. As part of the grants for program activity, the partner organizations implement projects concerning education and legal information for citizens, protection and execution of individual rights, civic education of youth, establishing local centres for civic activity, transparency of government, access to information, development of philanthropy, as well as micro-grant competition for local civic initiatives. Grants for institutional development are designated for increasing the qualifications of staff, volunteers and boards of directors, enhancing organizational management and improving the functioning of the organizational office.

In July, the first meeting of partner organizations took place in Warsaw. It was combined with a conference devoted to various aspects of NGO activity in Belarus, Ukraine and Poland: the legal environment of their functioning in particular states, cooperation with local government and business and building the image of the third sector. In the discussions at the conference about 100 people participated: experts and NGO leaders from all three states. In December, 28 representatives of partner organizations took part in a study visit in Poland. The aim of the visit was to present them with exemplary local civic initiatives, especially those based on strong and fruitful cooperation of various sectors, and with examples of model NGOs which thanks to their professionalism and openness have become important partners in resolving local problems. The meetings provided an opportunity to learn the opinions of various partners involved in local initiatives: NGOs, business and local government. Our partners visited 20 Polish NGOs in 18 towns across various regions of Poland. In addition, we organized two informational and training meetings in Ukraine combined with a presentation of the program: in February in Chernihiv and in October in Vinnica.

Community Initiatives Partnership Program

In 2004, in cooperation with the German Robert Bosch Foundation, we began to implement the grant program aimed to expand cooperation among NGOs from Poland, Germany and the Kaliningrad District. Within the program we support tripartite cooperation projects that serve to develop local community initiatives in the District and to integrate these initiatives into transboundary cooperation that contribute to improved quality of life in the Kaliningrad District.

We conducted the pilot edition of the program in 2004. Grants were awarded through a two-tier procedure: first, teams from three states filed letters of intent. Subsequently, some were selected to file complete applications. Eighteen letters of intent were filed for the competition, of which 15 were qualified for the second phase. Of the 13 applications filed in the second phase, the international expert commission selected 8 projects for funding. The grants will be disbursed in 2005.

Teams qualified to the second stage of the program took part in a three-day meeting organized as part of the Friendly Neighbourhood Forum conference in Elbląg. During the meeting, organization representatives had an opportunity to work on applications, consult projects with Program coordinators from the Stefan Batory and Robert Bosch Foundations as well as participate in intercultural communication workshops. For the majority of teams, this was the first opportunity to personally meet and discuss details of the planned project.

East-East Program

This is a network program operating since 1991 in all countries of Central, Eastern, and Southern Europe and Central Asia. Its objective lies in promoting international cooperation across the region to help build and strengthen open societies in these countries. Program activities are coordinated by the Open Society Institute's East-East Network Program that approves and funds all grants awarded for projects implemented in particular countries.

In Poland grants are made for international projects implemented by Polish organizations and institutions as well as for participation of Poles in the projects carried out in other countries of the region. The projects benefiting from such support address different areas of social, economic, and political life; as a general rule, each one must have clearly formulated objectives and specific goals to be attained through its implementation. In another important point, the involvement of partners from the region should not be incidental but, rather, initiate or continue sustained cross-border cooperation of people and institutions, cooperation of the sort which may contribute to perfecting models for social activity and to resolution of problems on a local as well as regional level.

In 2004, the Program helped implement 21 projects developed primarily by Polish NGOs, research and education institutions, scientific clubs and youth associations including 8 long-term ones developed in close collaboration with foreign partners. Most projects implemented by Polish organizations and institutions targeted our eastern neighbours, especially Ukraine. Balkan initiatives have also appeared – with Serbia and Macedonia (educational reform). The subject matter of the projects was extremely diverse and included cooperation of local government and NGOs, activation of rural areas, entrepreneurship and volunteerism. The initiated activities also included issues of the disabled and marginalized groups, and for the first time issues of restorative justice.

214 Polish experts were invited to participate in 49 projects run by foundations from other countries of the region: workshops, seminars, conferences devoted to various aspects of building a civil society (functioning of the third sector, civic education, local government, marginalized groups, etc.), development of industriousness and stimulating social activity, observance of human rights and monitoring of Ukrainian elections.

As part of the closed grant competition announced in 2003 for long-term projects in the area of stimulating social activity of the youth to which we invited selected organizations specializing in this field, 14 grants were made, of which 8 were paid in 2003 and 6 in 2004. The awarded initiatives focused on developing business skills in the youth community, stimulating their participation in local initiatives and promoting their participation in public life. Ukrainian organizations were the main partners in the projects of this competition.

Regional Alcohol and Drug Program

The purpose of this Program, in operation since 1966, is to cooperate and exchange experience with specialists and organizations from Central and Eastern Europe and Central Asia in the field of fighting addictions. We provide a variety of forms of training specialists in the field of prevention and treatment of alcohol and drug addiction, as well as of educating families of the addicted.

A crucial field of regional cooperation involves the transfer of our experience gained in managing the Atlantis alcohol addicts' treatment program, which – thanks to our initiative and assistance – for the past 11 years has been run with great success in Polish prisons. Over the past years, we have also been sharing our experience in setting up therapy programs for perpetrators of crime of violence, both in and out of inmate communities.

In 2004, educational work forming part of the Program, involved 6 seminars and workshops for specialists in addiction therapy and prevention. Such seminars were held in Bulgaria, Georgia, and Kyrgyzstan. Two seminars were organized in Poland: for withdrawal treatment therapists and penitentiary institution employees (on the treatment of addicted inmates) from Armenia, Belarus, Kyrgyzstan, Lithuania, Latvia, Moldova, Mongolia, Russia, Tajikistan and Ukraine. 22 psychologists, therapists, and doctors from countries within the region attended internships at addiction treatment centres (i.e. MONAR, the Addiction Therapy Centre of the Psychiatric and Neurology Institute in Warsaw, the Psychiatric Hospital in Tworki and a number of prisons implementing Atlantis programs).

We also implemented a training project that aims to prepare staff of the prison dependency treatment centre using the Atlantis method, which will open in 2005 in Bishkek, Kyrgyzstan. The Polish specialist, Dariusz Skowroński, conducted the majority of trainings for the future staff of the Kyrgyz centre.

In August 2004, we hosted the 2nd International Conference on Alcohol and Harm Reduction: New Challenges in the Changing World. The first conference of this cycle took place in 2002, in Recife, Brazil, with the next one being planned for 2006 in Cape Town in the Republic of South Africa. These conferences, devoted to discussing methods and opportunities for reducing harm related to alcohol use and abuse, are organized upon the initiative and with the cooperation of the Dutch organization Quest for Quality, renowned for excellent achievements in decreasing harms related to drug use. Over 200 people from 36 countries of Europe, Asia and America took part in the Warsaw conference. Conference materials, including such issues as effective alcohol prevention among children and youth, social education regarding health harms arising from irresponsible use of alcohol, problems with drunk drivers, were published in two special editions of the ArkA magazine in Polish and Russian.

Program activities were funded from Open Society Institute grant in the amount of PLN 707 601,39. On top of that, our partners in Armenia, Bulgaria, Georgia, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Moldova, Mongolia, Russia, Tajikistan and Ukraine received funds from OSI in the total amount of USD 70 755 for travel costs of specialists coming to Poland for training and internships. Moreover The Amsterdam Group (TAG) and the International Center for Alcohol Policies contributed PLN 271 025,52 to the costs of the 2nd International Conference on Alcohol and Harm Reduction.

Opinion of the independent Auditor

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Stefan Batory Foundation, seated in Warsaw, Sapieżyńska 10 A, consisting of the introduction to the financial statements, the balance sheet as at 31 December 2004 with total assets and total liabilities and equity of PLN 120 111 761,50; the profit and loss account for the year then ended with a net profit of PLN 28 594 653,37; and the supplementary information and explanations.

The management of the Foundation is responsible for the true and fair presentation of the financial statements and the accuracy of the accounting records. Our responsibility is to audit and express an opinion on the true and fair presentation of the financial statements and whether the financial statements are derived from properly maintained accounting records.

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing as promulgated by the International Federation of Accountants, section 7 of the Polish Accounting Act dated 29 September 1994 (Official Journal from 2002, No. 76, item 694 with amendments) and the professional standards established by the Polish National Council of Certified Auditors. These standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain a reasonable basis for expressing an opinion on the financial statements. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management of the Foundation, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements of the Stefan Batory Foundation have been prepared from properly maintained accounting records and present fairly, in all material aspects, the financial position of the Foundation as at 31 December 2004 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting standards as set out in the Polish Accounting Act dated 29 September 1994 and the Minister of Finance's decree on the specific accounting principles for certain entities which do not operate based on Commercial Code regulations and are not involved in business activities, dated 15 November 2001 (Official Journal No. 137, item 1539), and are in compliance with the respective laws and regulations, and the provisions of the Foundation's statute that apply to the Foundation's financial statements.

As required under the Polish Accounting Act dated 29 September 1994 we also report that the Report on the Foundation's activities includes the information required by Art. 49 Note 2 of the Accounting Act and the information is consistent with the financial statements.
