About the Founder

George Soros was born in Budapest, Hungary, in 1930. He survived the Nazi occupation of Budapest and left communist Hungary in 1947 for England, where he graduated from the London School of Economics. While a student at LSE, he became familiar with the work of the philosopher Karl Popper, who had a profound influence on his thinking and later on his professional and philanthropic activities.

In 1956, George Soros moved to the United States, where he began to accumulate a large fortune through an international investment fund he founded and managed. Today he is Chairman of Soros Fund Management LLC.

George Soros has been active as a philanthropist since 1979, when he began providing funds to help black students attend Capetown University in apartheid South Africa. Today he is Chairman of the Open Society Institute and the founder of a network of philanthropic organizations active in more than 50 countries in Eastern Europe, the former Soviet Union, Africa, Latin America, Asia, and the United States. These foundations are dedicated to building and maintaining the infrastructure and institutions of an open society. In 1992, George Soros founded the Central European University, with its primary campus in Budapest. In 2003 the Soros foundations network spent $474 million to support projects in education, public health, civil society development, and many other areas.

George Soros is the author of eight books: The Alchemy of Finance, 1987; Opening the Soviet System, 1990; Underwriting Democracy, 1991; Soros on Soros: Staying Ahead of the Curve, 1995; The Crisis of Global Capitalism: Open Society Endangered, 1998; Open Society: Reforming Global Capitalism, 2000; George Soros on Globalization, 2002; and the most recent one The Bubble of America Supremacy, 2004. His articles and essays on politics, society, and economics regularly appear in major newspapers and magazines around the world.

About the Foundation

The Stefan Batory Foundation is an independent, non-profit organization of a public benefit status registered by the District Court of Warsaw (Praga) on May 7th 1988. George Soros, an American financier and philanthropist, is the organization's Founder and chief donor. The Stefan Batory Foundation's mission is to build an open, democratic society – a society of people aware of their rights and responsibilities, who take an active role in public life and are responsible for themselves and for their community.

The Foundation's activity focuses on three priority areas:

■ support to civic initiatives in Poland

Civic involvement is an indispensable ingredient of every democratic process. The Foundation has provided support to a number of various types of community involvement initiatives that facilitate local problem solving. We help independent non-governmental organisations which undertake initiatives in areas where the role or the capacity of the state are limited. We are the only grant-maker in Poland to support not only individual projects but also long term programmes and institutional strengthening: strategic planning, management enhancement, financial sustainability. We support community initiatives which increase public participation and create equal opportunities for the most vulnerable or disadvantaged social groups.

■ access to justice and social scrutiny

We are convinced that democracy cannot function well without the knowledge of and respect for law among all citizens and without social scrutiny of the government. Therefore, we support measures that are designed to provide all citizens with access to information and justice. We assist legal and civil education programmes. We disseminate legal expertise and methods of exercising scrutiny over public institutions. We advocate systems to control corruption and protect individuals rights against government abuse.

■ international assistance and co-operation

Poland's democracy is young. We still remember its tough beginnings – therefore we help our neighbours in the East to advance democracy, particularly in Belarus and Ukraine. We facilitate experience sharing in the areas of political and social transition. We implement projects aimed at building strong neighbourly relations with the East and the West. We contribute to the dialogue on the future of common Europe and advocate a greater role of community initiative in international relations and in the advancement of democratic principles and respect for human rights.

The basic method of Foundation's operation is grantmaking. Throughout 2003, we provided 350 grants to institutions and organizations, 48 travel grants to cover costs of 131 participants attending events and projects abroad, 10 awards and 8 scholarships; overall expenditure to that purpose totaled PLN 20 million (EUR 4,500,000).

Alone or in partnership with other organisations, we also initiate and implement projects that are important for the social and political development of Poland. We host public debates on political, social and international relations issues, produce publications, conduct research and social campaigns, organise conferences, seminars and training workshops; overall expenditure to that purpose totaled in 2003 PLN 4 million (EUR 900,000).

In 2003 we pursued our activity in 5 domestic and 5 international programs. Apart from them we funded also 10 spun-off programs carried out by our partner organizations. These included:

- Fund for Women – a program of grant support for women's initiatives, co-funded by the Ford Foundation, and handed over to the OSKa National Women's Information Center (funds allocated for the years 2003-2006)
- ProBonus Fund – a program to support organisations involved in assistance to the third sector, co-funded by the Ford and C.S. Mott Foundations and managed by the Civil Society Development Foundation (funds allocated for the years 2004-2006)
- Polish NGO Office in Brussels – a program supporting Polish organisations in their preparation for active participation in the European integration process, managed by Forum of Non-Governmental Initiatives Association (funds allocated for the years 2004-2005)
- Local Culture – a program to support culture in rural areas and small towns, co-funded and managed by the Rural Development Foundation (funds allocated for the years 2003-2004)
- Local History – a history competition for secondary school students managed by the Karta Centre Foundation (funds allocated for the years 2003-2006)
- Journals Showcase – a cultural magazine support program, handed over to the Open Source Culture Foundation (funds allocated for the years 2003-2005)
- Art for Social Change – a program promoting artistic activity as a way of helping young people to overcome social and cultural disorientation, co-funded by the European Cultural Foundation and the Evens Foundation, managed by the Theatre in Education Association Wybrzeżak (funds allocated for the years 2003-2004)

- Big Brother, Big Sister – a support program for neglected children, handed over to the Big Brother, Big Sister Foundation – Poland (funds allocated for the years 2003-2005)
- First Step – a program that helps Roma children to undertake early education, managed by Educational Society of Małopolska (funds allocated for the years 2003-2005)
- Eastern Scholarships – a scholarship program for Central and East European scientists, co-funded by the Foundation for Polish Science, and managed by the Józef Mianowski Fund – the Foundation for the Promotion of Science (funds allocated for the years 2003-2004)

In our activity we observe principle of transparency, openness and accountability. The applications for grants are assessed with the help of special expert committees which review and recommend applications for funding. Final decisions of grant awards are made by the Foundation's Board. We announce up-to-date information about our activities and grant-seeking possibilities on our Website (<http://www.batory.org.pl>). Our finances are professionally audited and publicized in the Annual Report together with the list of grants awarded and projects implemented during the year.

Our Donors

In the year 2003 the funding for Stefan Batory Foundation's activity came from several different sources. It was the first year in the 15 years history of the Foundation when the funding provided by the Open Society Institute, established by George Soros, amounted to half of our entire budget. The second half came from other sources, namely Polish and foreign donors.

A donation of USD 5 million from the Trust for Civil Society in Central and Eastern Europe allowed us to design the Third Sector Program to be continued for another four years. Another four-year program launched in 2003 – the Citizens in Action – came to being thanks to the Ford Foundation, which donated USD 2,5 million to support social initiatives in the Ukraine and Belarus.

It was the second year of the Twin Cities Program of Polish-German cooperation, initiated and funded by the Bosch Foundation. Our activities in the area of international cooperation were co-funded by a variety of organisations, including: Poland-America-Ukraine Cooperation Initiative (PAUCI), National Endowment for Democracy, Charities Aid Foundation, German Marshall Memorial Fund of the United States and the European Commission. The Anti-Corruption Program was financially supported by the World Bank and the US Embassy.

In 2003, our programs for children and teenagers: Equal Opportunities – Local Scholarship Funds for young people from low-income families and the Rainbow Academy Program for disabled children and youth, were supported, among others, by Levi Strauss & Co., the Commercial Union Poland insurance company and individual donors – Mr and Mrs Miechowicz.

As in previous years, in 2003 the Foundation ran the Commercial Union Charity Fund, a donor-advised fund of an insurance company that had been cooperating with us since 1996. The Fund was used to support projects indicated by the donor in the area of health care and education. The income gained from investing the endowed M Fund, created in 2002 thanks to a donation by a private donor, was in line with the Founder's will, used to help disabled and ill children, and support equal opportunities projects. In 2003 we began to administer another named fund: the Beata Pawlak Fund used, in line with the Founder's last will, to finance an annual prize for the best article on different cultures, religions and civilizations.

Our donors

In the year 2003 we continued our efforts to grow the endowment which will constitute a basis for our funding in the future. Our efforts to build the endowment and expand our funding base were supported by: the Ford Foundation, the Charles Stuart Mott Foundation and the Rockefeller Brothers Fund. The Ford Foundation contributed another USD 3 million to increase our endowment, the Charles Stuart Mott and the Rockefeller Brothers Foundations provided us with two-year grants for institutional development and fund-raising activities.

We thank all our donors from the bottom of our hearts!
With your help we can help others!

The Batory Foundation Debates

The Batory Foundation Debates are an attempt at establishing an independent meeting and discussion forum for politicians, professionals, public intellectuals and journalists. The Foundation has long organized conferences and seminars on transition in Poland, international affairs, Poland's foreign policy and the situation in Central and Eastern Europe. It has always been our objective to initiate public debate on matters important for Poland and the region.

Problems with Gas

February 6, 2003

The debate was moderated by Dariusz Filar, Chief Economist of Bank PEKAO S.A.

Panelists: Aleksander Gudzowaty, President of the Board of Bartimpex S.A.; Tadeusz Syryjczyk, Minister of Transport and Maritime Economy in Jerzy Buzek's government; Piotr Woźniak, the deputy President of the Polish Oil and Gas Company in 2000-2001.

The debate was an opportunity to present a report on Between Need and Dependency. Russian Gas in the Energy Balance of the Enlarged EU published as part of the Stefan Batory Foundation's On the Future of Europe series. The report was drafted by Grzegorz Gromadzki in co-operation with a team of experts; it was published in the Polish, English, and Russian languages.

The debate was moderated by Aleksander Smolar, President of the Batory Foundation.

Keynote address: Włodzimierz Cimoszewicz, Polish Minister of Foreign Affairs. Commentaries by: Jan Krzysztof Bielecki, former Polish Prime Minister, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, London (currently President of the Bank PEKAO S.A.); Tadeusz Mazowiecki, former Polish Prime Minister, the 1992-95 Special Rapporteur of the United Nations Human Rights Commission on respect for human rights in former Yugoslavia; Dariusz Rosati, former Polish Minister of Foreign Affairs, member of the Monetary Policy Council.

The Polish and English transcript of the debate was published as part of the Batory Foundation's On the Future of Europe series.

The Ukrainian-Polish Debate on Volyn

September 29, 2003

The debate was moderated by Bogumiła Berdychowska, columnist

Panelists: Anton Borkowskij, philosopher, the Ji magazine, Lviv; Jarosław Hrycak, historian, Institute of Historical Research of the Lviv University; Paweł Machcewicz, historian, Director of the Public Education Bureau of the Institute of National Memory, Lublin Chapter.

The debate was followed by a screening of Volyn – a Forecats of Tragedy, and a discussion with its authors – Oleksandr Radynski and Oleksandr Balaban.

The debate was co-organised by Tygodnik Powszechny weekly.

Series of debates State Crisis and Possible Ways Out

In September 2003, in cooperation with Tygodnik Powszechny weekly, we launched a series of debates on State Crisis and Possible Ways Out with an intent to discuss the growing sense of a state crisis, and the ever-greater lack of public confidence in political elites. This condition is reflected in the increasingly negative attitude of the society to post-1989 changes, as well as in the emergence of various remedy concepts for Poland, such as the postulates to amend the Constitution and the Election Law Act, or the slogan to proclaim the Fourth Republic. In his opening comments to the series debates, Aleksander Smolar wrote, “Our state and democracy require an in-depth and calm analysis. In line with our best traditions, we want these discussions to become a forum for meetings and thought exchange for politicians representing various parties, academics and teachers, journalists and business people – simply all those who share our anxiety and conviction that a civic debate is a precondition for a credible description of the country’s true condition, and for a search for responses to challenges we have been facing.”

Politics as a Tool for Conquest

September 25, 2003

The debate was moderated by Aleksander Smolar, President of the Batory Foundation.

Panelists: Andrzej Celiński, Member of the Polish Parliament, Left Democratic Alliance party; Janusz Lewandowski, Member of the Polish Parliament, Citizen's Forum party; Andrzej Rychard, sociologist, Director of the Social Studies, Centre at the Institute of Philosophy and Social Science of the Polish Academy of Sciences; Kazimierz Michał Ujazdowski, Member of the Polish Parliament, Law and Justice party; Jacek Żakowski, columnist, Polityka weekly.

How to Democratize Democracy

December 15, 2003

The debate was moderated by Mirosława Grabowska, sociologist, Institute of Social Science, Warsaw University, Board Member of the Batory Foundation.

Panelists: Marek Borowski, Speaker of the Parliament, Left Democratic Alliance party; Janusz Kochanowski, lawyer, President of the Ius et Lex Foundation; prof. Wiktor Osiatyński, lawyer, constitutional law specialist.

The debates of this series were published in Tygodnik Powszechny weekly.

Civil Society Program

This Program has the objective of initiating and supporting undertakings geared at promoting positive models of civic activity and improving the operation of civic organisations in Poland. It is our goal to encourage different organisations labouring towards the public good to coordinate their efforts and to reach out to other social partners (local government, the business community, volunteers); we strive to ensure that these organisations are well managed and that they put their resources to good use.

Institutional Grants

In the year 2003, institutional grants were extended to 32 organisations demonstrating good records of achievement in the area of their activity (culture, social aid, health care, international cooperation etc). The grants were aimed to assist the recipient organisations in the implementation of changes necessary for their sustained development and stabilization, the formulation of long-term operating strategies, introducing some diversity to their sources of funding, and for increasing the effectiveness of their resource management.

The ProBonus Fund

On the initiative of the Mott Foundation, the Ford Foundation, and the Batory Foundation, a three-year fund was set up with an aim to increase capacity and efficiency of infrastructure organisations acting in the field of support and development of NGO sector in Poland. The Civil Society Development Foundation was selected to manage the Fund.

Acting Together

In 2003 we launched the fourth edition of the Acting Together project addressed to NGOs combining financial, human, and infrastructural resources with a view of a better achievement towards socially beneficial ends. In the fourth edition we subsidised projects aimed to develop and implement joint operating strategies for the identification and successful resolution of specific social problems arising in the given community, the devising of principles and forms for continuous cooperation with the local government, state institutions, private business, and with the mass media, and for building effective representation of the NGOs to carry out advocacy efforts on the behalf and in the interest of the organisations and the beneficiaries of their aid. Our grants financed 22 projects.

Greenhouse

The year 2003 saw also the fifth edition of the Greenhouse project, aimed at fostering the development of local non-governmental organisations. In 2003 we focused on small and recently established organisations specialising in social aid and health care from the provinces of: Lower Silesia, Lubuskie, Mazovia, Opolskie, and Wielkopolskie. The Greenhouse was implemented in cooperation with local partner organisations, i.e. with the Regional Non-Governmental Initiatives Support Centre from Wałbrzych, the Lubuskie Training Center of the Foundation for Support of Local Democracy from Zielona Góra, the Warsaw-based Social Initiative Service Office – BORIS, the Opole Local Democracy Centre of the Foundation for Support of Local Democracy, and the Civic Initiative Promotion and Development Centre Association from Leszno. Our partners were charged with the task of advertising grant opportunities, assisting local organisations in the preparation of applications, assessing incoming proposals, and monitoring undertakings pursued by grant recipients. With the help of our partners 130 grants (up to PLN 3,000 each) were distributed. They were devoted to purposes such as the retaining of an expert, participation in trainings aimed to enhance organisation's management skills (accountancy, public relations etc.) or the purchase of software or professional literature.

Liaison Officers – Experts on Social Development and EU Funding

With a view to help the NGO sector get involved in planning, monitoring and utilizing structural funds, we initiated a program in 2002 to build a network of liaison officers/experts on social development and EU funding. The role of liaison officers is to assist NGOs in competently and pro-actively participating in all structural fund processes. The first task was to develop a formula for cooperation with NGOs, government offices and public institutions (such as local and regional government, Provincial Labour Offices, World Bank project offices, agricultural extension services, regional development agencies etc.) and the media and business. Liaison officers take on more responsibilities as the project develops: develop a regular relationship with Marshall's Offices, ensure the transparency of recruitment into regional steering and monitoring committees, review regional developing strategies and operational programs, monitor procurement procedures, inform NGOs on existing EU funding opportunities, assist in writing applications, help to build coalition around projects. Liaison officers have institutional support from local NGOs, which provide office facilities. Each organisation received a grant from the Batory Foundation to cover the expenses while developing a regional cooperation network (e.g. meetings, report development and travel). We provide further support to liaison officer by keeping them informed and organizing regular meeting and training, sharing reports and assessment papers, promoting their position and facilitating their approach towards government administration, and by funding specific selected activities. The project is implemented in close collaboration with the International Cooperation Program of the Batory Foundation and the Representative Office of Polish NGOs in Brussels.

Regional Debates

For many years now, we have been organising public debates at the Foundation, to discuss current political and public policy topics. This year, we decided to invite selected organisations to hold similar debates in different Polish regions around the theme of transparency in public life. A closed competition was organised, with participants including regional chapters of the Foundation in Support of Local Democracy members of the Non-governmental Organisations' Support Network – SPLOT, selected local organisations co-operating with the School for Leaders Association, and leaders of Local Civic Groups trained as part of the Anti-Corruption Program. Twelve debates took place in June: in Opole, Katowice, Oława, Szczecin, Kielce, Cracow, Elbląg, Poznań, Gdańsk, Sopot, Wrocław, and Bydgoszcz (comments offered in regional debates were later published during the 2nd press conference entitled Monitoring of election promises 2001 organised in September by the Anti-Corruption Program).

Moreover, we provided the School for Leaders Association with a grant to hold a competition for organisers of local debates on What state? What education? theme. The competition targeted non-governmental and student organisations, local authorities, and other institutions interested in organising open debates in their own locations, chiefly from the Lublin and Podkarpackie provinces. During the period of October 1st 2003 through January 20th 2004 25 meetings were organised throughout Poland to discuss education-related issues including such topics as: Do integration schools have a future? Do rural areas need kindergartens? Should public universities charge tuition? The organisers of the debates attended free of charge training sessions on issues connected with organising and holding debates, and received small grants to cover organisational expenses.

You Have a Vote, You Have a Choice. Local Government Is Yours!

You Have a Vote, You Have a Choice project is designed to strengthen public interest in elections and build a sense of shared responsibility of the electoral constituency and the elected representatives. We want to send out a message that a ballot can make a difference and ordinary citizens, and not just powerful pressure groups, can influence public life. In the autumn of 2002 i.e. just before the elections, we launched an outreach campaign together with Gazeta Wyborcza and the Local Newspapers Association to encourage the public to take part in the local elections.

In the fall of 2003 – in cooperation with chapters of the Foundation in Support of Local Democracy and NGOs affiliated in the SPLOT network – we monitored more than one hundred boroughs to find out how elected mayors and presidents deliver on promises made during their pre-election campaigns.

The Beata Pawlak Award

From a named Fund established at the Foundation by the last will of a deceased Beata Pawlak, journalist and writer, who died on October 12th 2002 in a terrorist attack on Indonesian Bali, an award is presented annually to an author of an article or series of articles dealing with other cultures, religions, or civilisations.

On October 13th 2003, the Beata Pawlak Award was presented for the first time at the Stefan Batory Foundation. It went to Anna Fostakowska, author of an article Cast your Eyes Down and Cry, published in the Gazeta Wyborcza daily. The awarded article described the fate of refugees arriving to Poland.

An award presentation was accompanied by a debate on Codes and White Noise – Today's Obstacles to Communication between Cultures moderated by the chair of the award jury, Adam Szostkiewicz. Max Cegielski, Hatif Janabi, Olga Stanisławska, and Joanna Tokarska-Bakir participated in the panel discussion. The session was also an opportunity to display photographs taken by Beata Pawlak during her final six-month journey across Asia.

In 2003 the Program was co-funded by Ford Foundation (PLN 167,441.40), Beata Pawlak Fund (PLN 10,000) and Open Society Institute network program (PLN 4,255).

Third Sector Program

The Third Sector Program was launched in January 2003. It constitutes a larger project aimed to support the process of developing and stabilising the civil society in 7 Central and Eastern European countries: Bulgaria, the Czech Republic, Poland, Romania, Slovenia, Slovakia, and Hungary. It is initiated and funded by the Trust for Civil Society in Central and Eastern Europe, established by a consortium of six American foundations that had been active in this region.

The aim of the Program is to improve the overall operations of the non-profit sector in Poland by creating a favourable legal and fiscal environment for organisations' growth, providing assistance in building foundations of their financial stability, and enhancing co-operation between organisations as well as the development of partnership relations with other sectors. The Program is planned for four years and is carried out within the framework of four projects.

Favourable Environment for Non-Governmental Organisations' Growth

Partner organisations: Institute of Public Affairs, Klon/Jawor Association

The exit point for defining all assumptions and guidelines for the sector's development policy are provided by research of the non-governmental organisations' condition, and the various aspects of their work in terms of co-operating with the central administration, the local authorities, and/or the volunteer community. Research results are published in dedicated papers, as well as on the www.ngo.pl web portal. All resulting conclusions, fundamental problems, and proposed development areas for the non-governmental sector will be analysed throughout a series of expert seminars, and in a specialist quarterly. The monitoring of legal regulations in the area of non-governmental organisations by our partners will make it possible to determine all required modifications to legislation or to direct legal practice.

Partnership for the Third Sector

Partner organisations: Foundation in Support of Local Democracy, SPLOT Network of Information and Support for Non-Governmental Organisations

Our partners – two major nationwide network organisations – analyse all pending agreements with local authorities and other organisations. Against such background, model third sector/local authorities co-operation agreements will be drafted and implemented. Top quality solutions will then be popularised as useful when seeking optimum solutions for subsequent local authorities.

NGOs' participation in the planning and use of EU funding is to be ensured through the placing of representatives of respective organisations on Regional Monitoring and Steering Committees. Moreover, conferences, workshops and training courses on the methodology and options of applying for EU funds are to be organised.

Advocacy of regional-level interests of organisations and their clients is developed on the basis of supra-sectoral and sectoral federations of organisations, and of regional non-governmental organisations' forums.

New Models of Civic Initiatives Funding

Partner organisations: Academy for the Development of Philanthropy in Poland, Polish Environmental Partnership Foundation

We support fund-raising and local coalition building methodologies that benefit from the collaborative network of NGOs, local government, business and private donors to form a sustainable funding source for initiatives that respond to local community needs.

Training, consulting and financial support will help strengthen all existent and establish new Community Foundations and Partner Groups (a Community Foundation is a non-governmental organisation which receives local donations and redistributes funds in the form of grants awarded to local initiatives while building an endowment to ensure long term grant making capability; a Partner Group is a coalition of a variety of partners – non-governmental organisations, local businesses, and public institutions representing at least two sectors of public life – working together to implement long-term projects assisting the given region).

We support philanthropy and corporate social involvement by co-funding two key campaigns run by the Academy for the Development of Philanthropy in Poland; the first one promotes attitudes of involvement and corporate social responsibility, and has been built around the Bene-factor of the Year Competition; the other is to encourage taxpayers to use the opportunity of allocating 1% of their tax due to support a public benefit organisation.

Institutional Development of Non-Governmental Organisations

With an intent to support the process of building institutional and financial stability of organisations, we held an open grant contest in 2003 for established organisations whose operations are of key importance to social development and to the advancement of the Third Sector. Grants were offered to organisations, whose activities target large recipient groups, resolve problems not tackled by others, introduce model solutions, or are innovative, unique, and stereotype-breaking in nature.

In 2003, seven organisations received technical assistance grants to help them produce full proposals. The institutional grants competition was ultimately resolved in early 2004.

Legal Education Program

The objective of the Legal Program is to initiate and support the increase of public awareness and promote information on legal issues; to develop a law-abiding culture in Poland; and to assist citizens in gaining access to legal knowledge, in identification and application of the legal protection tools available to them.

During 2003, we facilitated the application of legal instruments protecting individual interests, and supporting citizens in claiming and executing their rights. We prioritised projects of practical value that provided effective solutions to specific problems of everyday life and focused on initiatives that would help people find their way amongst rules and procedures often perceived by them as confusing, and develop their knowledge and skills that would enable them to use the legal provisions to their best advantage. It was important for us to ensure that the projects sponsored under the Legal Education Program were implemented in cooperation with local governments and non-governmental organisations, and had a long-term strategy in terms of further development and funding.

In 2003, our partners were mainly non-governmental organisations, since they played a crucial role in the application of, and adherence to, legal provisions by both individuals and public bodies in Poland. These included the Alliance of Citizens' Advice Bureaus Association, University Legal Clinics Foundation, and Iustitia Judges Association.

As part of our activities aimed at increasing access to legal knowledge and information, we continued to support University Legal Clinics and Citizens' Advice Bureaus. The main aim of these organisations is to provide free and impartial information on legal issues, as well as professional advice to individuals facing serious problems. In the case of the Citizens' Advice Bureaus, this task is carried out by experts who underwent special training; in Legal Clinics the advisors are law students supervised by university teachers or representatives of the legal profession with appropriate experience. In 2003 we awarded grants to 24 already operating or newly established Citizens' Advice Bureaus, to the University Legal Clinics Foundation established in 2002, as well as to the University Legal Clinics at the Gdańsk University, and the Collegium Polonicum in Stubice.

In addition, we supported activities in the field of legal assistance and aid to people facing serious problems: the Nobody's Children Foundation dealing with child abuse problems, Women's Rights Centre, and the Citizens' Advice Bureau for the Roma community in Cracow. Considerable attention was given to educational projects dealing with various legal issues and human rights. We supported groups, for whom legal information was of primary importance, such as the disabled, ex-convicts or youth. Some grants were awarded to local civic anti-corruption groups collaborating with the Foundation’s Anti-Corruption Program and organisations promoting mediation, such as the Polish Mediation Centre.

Working together with the Iustitia Polish Judges Association, we continued a project entitled Citizen at Court, involving the establishment of information desks at courthouses offering user-friendly, straightforward information about basic legal issues. We provided subsidies towards the publication of advice manuals prepared by non-governmental organisations, such as the East-West Association, the Coalition for Mental Health Association and the Baba Lubuskie Association for Women.

In collaboration with the Iustitia Polish Judges Association and the Helsinki Human Rights Foundation, we continued our Journalist in Court sessions for judges and journalists covering court trials. The purpose of those sessions is to ensure mutual recognition and better understanding of working conditions in both communities, establish contact, and exchange experience and opinion. The ultimate goal is to set up conditions for better public understanding of work performed by the judiciary thanks to competent and reliable media information. Meetings are attended by journalists of the regional and local media, and by judges working in the area. The agenda of all meetings involves an open discussion around topics concerning media-court-house relations, and mock court trials with roles swapped: journalists take on relevant court-house parts (judges, prosecutors, attorneys, defendants, and witnesses), whereas judges are responsible for drafting press, radio, and TV materials describing the “trial”. Sessions were held in Kielce, Katowice and Cracow.

In 2003, the Program received partial funding from the Open Society Justice Initiative (PLN 536,61.47).

Anti-Corruption Program

The aim of the Program is to build trust in public institutions, foster civic awareness and make the public more sensitive to various manifestations of corruption in the country. We pursue these objectives by initiating and supporting a civic movement towards increased transparency of public life, information and education activity devised to influence public attitudes towards the phenomenon of corruption in daily life, and by proposing legislative changes which promote social participation in decision making, guarantee the transparency of decision making processes, and institute control mechanisms which prevent corruption. Its main focus in 2003 was to monitor central and local government.

The Program is implemented in collaboration with the Helsinki Human Rights Foundation.

In 2003 the Program was co-financed by the Open Society Justice Initiative (PLN 190,000.97, World Bank (PLN 18,952.51), and American Embassy (PLN 11,937.60).

Fighting Corruption in the Everyday Life

You do not have to bribe, you do not have to be a part of it – since 2000 we have been running a campaign aimed to change a common attitude towards the corruption. We want to limit not only its scope, but also the tolerance for „giving” and „accepting”.

Corruption Barometer. Public Opinion and Entrepreneurs on Corruption report

Each year we conduct a survey on how the corruption we are dealing with on an everyday basis is perceived. The findings provide an input to what we call a barometer, which records changes in public attitudes towards corruption and indicates the scale and nature of corrupt patterns.

Additionally, each year we made a research on corruption in a chosen aspect of public life: health service, local government and public offices, in business or legislative. On the basis of the survey reports are produced. In 2003 we made an in depth survey on corruption in business. In the report Public opinion and entrepreneurs on corruption Anna Kubiak of Sociology Institute, University of Łódź analysed the results of a survey conducted for us by CBOS Centre for Public Opinion Polls: how the corruption we are dealing with on an everyday basis – in health care, public offices, etc – is perceived, and also how entrepreneurs perceive its impact and scope in the economy. The findings of the report were presented on few meetings with entrepreneurs (among others members of the Polish Chamber of Commerce, entrepreneurs from Chorzów), with policemen and on the conference organised by the Foundation for Accounting Development in Poland. The report was presented also during a public conference organized by the Foundation in September and posted on our website. www.przeciw-korupcji.org.pl.

Only Fish Don' Take Bait? contest for journalists

For the fourth edition of the contest 55 journalists from 17 newspapers (national, regional and local), 3 radio stations and 3 TV channels submitted 138 pieces. We were accepting works produced September 16, 2002 – September 15, 2003 that featured corruption cases or revealed the corruption mechanisms. Criteria set for the articles included: honesty and objectivity of facts presented, following the described issue in a continuous manner, independent research and a journalistic skilfulness.

The Award's Committee: Klaus Bachmann (freelance journalist), Krzysztof Bobiński (Unia & Polska), Teresa Bogucka (Gazeta Wyborcza), Marcin Król (Respublica), Justyna Duriasz-Buthak (the Foundation for the Support of Rural Areas) and Janusz Buszyński (US Embassy), awarded 6 prizes:

- the First Prize of PLN 8 330 was awarded to:

Małgorzata Solecka and Andrzej Stankiewicz of Rzeczpospolita for a series of articles and features on famous corruption case in the Ministry of Health, entitled Medicals for Millions of Dollars.

- the Second Prize of PLN 4 760 was awarded, ex aequo, to:

Józef Jerzy Jurecki of Tygodnik Podhalański for articles Untouchables and Untouchables Arrested, on corruption in the Tax Office in Zakopane; Marek Kęskrawiec of Newsweek for articles Father Nowok Farm and Father Called off and Jacek Bazan of the Superwizjer TVN editorial for Land Sale, materials being the result of a joint journalist investigation.

- the Third Prize of PLN 2 975 was awarded, ex aequo, to:

Włodzimierz Frąckiewicz and Krystian Przysiecki of Coverage Section of the Polish Television Channel I for the Inconvenient broadcast on Always after 9 p.m.; Grzegorz Indulski and Michał Karnowski of Newsweek for the articles Łapiński's Entanglement and Minister with FOZZ in the Background.

- special prize of PLN 4 000 was awarded to Marcin Kozarow of Polish Radio Pomorze and Kujawy for the radio emission on rural areas Frog – Plain Mongrel (prize sponsored by the Foundation for the Support of Rural Areas).

The prizes were sponsored by: US Embassy (PLN 11 937), Batory Foundation (PLN 11 863) and Foundation for the Support of Rural Areas (PLN 4 000).

After presentation of the awards Krzysztof Burnetko of Tygodnik Powszechny, Piotr Stasiński of Gazeta Wyborcza and Jan Skórzyński of Rzeczpospolita participated in a discussion Should a journalist keep his/her distance from the political authority? moderated by the member of the Award Committee, Krzysztof Bobiński.

Medical Task Force

Since 2001 the Program supports a Medical Task Force focusing on ethics in public health care. In 2003 the Task Force continued the campaign Wait in a Humane Way designed to improve general access to specialized medical services (a seminar organized on May 8, 2003, letters to the management of the Health Ministry) and organized a press conference on the scope and scale of corruption in the health service (June 30, 2003). Actions of the Task Force aimed to create a system of monitoring waiting lists for the rationed medical services: production and dissemination of information materials, organizing a seminar for the representatives of health care community, the employees of National Sickness Fund and Ministry of Health, as well as promotion of the issue in the press (Gazeta Wyborcza, Rzeczpospolita, Polityka) – resulted in the Health Minister taking action. In December 2003 the Ministry began to work on a system to administer the lists of patients waiting for the rationed specialized medical services and on establishing a ministerial advisory unit consisting of experts, Task Force representatives including.

Legal Protection of the Person Reporting a Case of Corruption seminar

People reporting corruption cases in Poland are from the legal point of view in a very disadvantageous position. On February 19, 2003 we organized a seminar during which specialists discussed on how they can be protected.

The discussion was opened by Małgorzata Rutkiewicz, the legal counsel of Anti-Corruption Program, who presented the exemplary cases reported to the Foundation in the framework of legal advisory service provided by the Program. Then Michael Adlem, director of Financial Advisory Services and Jacek Wojciechowicz of the World Bank presented the ways this problem is solved in other countries. The participants of the discussion included: judge Jacek Garstka from Ministry of Justice, Ryszard Kalisz, deputy to the Parliament, Social Democratic Alliance (SLD), Jan Pastwa from Civil Service Office, gen. Adam Rapacki from Deputy Police Commanding Officer, Dr Irena Rzeplińska, Legal Studies Institute, Polish Academy of Science, Krzysztof Szwedowski, Vice-President of the Supreme Chamber of Control (NIK), judge Andrzej Wąsek, professor at the Maria Curie-Skłodowska University, Małgorzata Wilkosz-Śliwa, spokesperson of the General Prosecutor and Janusz Wojciechowski, Deputy Speaker of the Lower House of the Parliament, Polish Peasant Party (PSL).

Since 2000 we have been providing legal advisory service for individuals who report to us corruption-related problems encountered in their daily lives. So far we handled 284 cases. We provide information on the possible means of regress and offer help in the appeal procedures. In 2003 in 12 cases we applied to the appropriate supervisory and controlling institutions and in 7 cases we turned to the prosecutor's office for the investigation. In two cases we worked as the social observers during the trial at court. So far, the majority of cases concerned the local government misconducts. For instance, thanks to our actions Piła District Governor issued a regulation forbidding his employees to take up any additional posts coinciding with their official duties, what eliminated the violation of article 18 of Local Government Employees Act in the district of Piła. The Court in Zamość also changed its decision favouring a court employee as a party in one of the cases and assured that steps eliminating such situation in the future shall be taken.

Because of the constantly rising number of people in need of the legal aid, we invited the network of University Legal Clinics to include cases of corruption in their counsel services. Half of 16 existing University Legal Clinics agreed to expand the scope of their service. After the training, since February 2004, we will gradually handle the cases requiring legal intervention that are filed to the Program to the University Legal Clinics.

Public Scrutiny of Government at National Level

Report on the civil service

For 6 years Poland has been forming a corpus of civil service, which is to be a guaranty for an apolitical, professional set of employees of the public administration. However, the governments violate or circumvent the regulations of Civil Service Act, adopted in 1996. In the report Civil Service in the Republic of Poland: critical points, prepared for the Program by Krzysztof Burnetko, an analysis of the present state of civil service was presented together with the proposals of necessary changes. The report presented at a public conference in June 2003 and posted on our website www.przeciw-korupcji.org.pl attracted media and politicians' attention.

The continuation of this project will be a report on the procedures for employing the public administration staff. We also wish to advocate for the changes in the Civil Service Act in order to ensure an efficient functioning of an apolitical civil service corpus.

Anti-Corruption strategy monitoring

In September 2002 Polish government adopted an anti-corruption strategy. This document included numerous entries treated as strict obligations: it stated precisely who must do what and in what time-limit. Anti-Corruption Program assumed the monitoring of this strategy. Every 6 months we verify if the government fulfilled the obligations adopted in the strategy and inform the public opinion the result of our findings.

In April and September 2003 during press conferences we presented two conclusions of subsequent stages of strategy implementation. In the conclusions we limit ourselves to state which obligations were fulfilled and whether there are any delays in the strategy's implementation. Only when we have reliable and required data (e.g. project of public tendering act or regulation on the introduction of lessons on anti-corruption in schools) we elaborate on the character of the undertaken actions.

The deadline for the implementation of the government strategy is the end of 2003, therefore the next, final evaluation of its implementation will be presented to the public opinion in beginning of 2004. The results of the monitoring (posted on our website www.przeciw-korupcji.org.pl, drew attention of the media and public opinion, since they were the only independent source of information on that issue.

In collaboration with the Helsinki Human Rights Foundation and the Social Communication Foundation we have been reviewing how political parties are fulfilling their pledge to fight corruption made during the parliamentary election campaign in 2001. We organise annual conferences attended by party representatives to evaluate the status of implementation of election promises. In 2003, the representatives of political parties were asked how they deal with their members being in the conflict of public and private or with those who violate the law. The participants of the conference were also reminded of the corruption cases in their parties disclosed by the media. Politicians discussed the conflict of interest procedures in their parties and agreed that there is still much to be done. No party, however, made any concrete pledge to discipline its members.

Public Scrutiny of Government at the Local Level

Local Civic Groups

In 2000 we initiated the formation of a network of local civic groups to monitor the activity of the authorities and to organize educational campaign for a greater transparency of public life. Each year we train a group of leaders in the field of law, local government, leadership skills and work in local community. Training consists of nine meetings, two days each, organized every 4-5 weeks. The training of the third group of leaders lasted from November 2002 to October 2003. 25 persons participated, 6 of them already formed Local Groups in Gdynia, Oława, Lublin, Kraków, Lubaczów and Ostrołęka. In October 2003 we initiated the training of the fourth group of leaders with 24 participants. At present, 15 Local Civic Groups operate.

The individual civic groups engage in activity such as: setting up citizens' help-desks, monitoring access to information in local government offices, organizing workshops on the transparency of government and anti-corruption measures, outreach, particularly among youth, or cooperation with local media. In 2003 seven groups received grants for the implementation of their projects from Legal Education Program.

In September 2003, the leaders of Local Groups – graduates of our trainings – formed the Local Citizens Groups Association, registered in December 2003. The program provides the Association with technical and financial assistance.

Transparent Municipality campaign

The project initiated and co-funded by Agora S.A. and Polish-American Freedom Foundation aims to launch a social campaign for transparent operation of municipality offices. Local governments participating in the campaign implement a Model of Transparent Municipality prepared by the Anti-Corruption Program. This model, created for our Program and based on our experience, recommends six principles for the efficient functioning of an office: transparency, predictability, accountability, professionalism, public participation and zero tolerance for corruption. The campaign initiated in November 2003 and planned for two years consists of two stages. In the pilot stage 16 communities (one in every province) will gradually implement the Model of Transparent Municipality with the help of experts. In the spring of 2004 a mass information campaign will begin, conducted mainly by Gazeta Wyborcza. Participation in the project will be open for the municipalities which will make a pledge to implement at least some of the elements of the Model.

Notes for a Councillor

Minimal, standard and complete task sets are being prepared. The Batory Foundation co-funds the project in the amount PLN 266 000 (grant for the Foundation of Local Democracy Development).

The publication Notes for Councillor was published in 5 000 copies and consists of two parts: information on anti-corruption regulations concerning local government employees and councillors and the presentation of Model of Transparent Municipality. In the beginning of 2003, 2 500 copies of Notes were distributed among the presidents of all newly-elected municipal councils in Poland. We wanted to provide them with knowledge on what the local government employees should avoid and a tool for the implementation of transparent procedures for a local government. The Notes are distributed also among the members of Local Civic Groups and other interested persons.

Transparent Townhalls

We work with the Czech, Slovak and Hungarian offices of Transparency International to build a coalition of officials, councillors and NGO leaders towards implementing transparency into local government offices in capital cities of the Visegrad countries. Each year the representatives of the cities meet to share the knowledge and experience and develop an anti-corruption action plan for their cities.

The first meeting took place in February 2003 in Prague, next one is organized by the Batory Foundation in May 2004 in Warsaw. During the meeting in Prague, officials from City Executive Office in Warsaw pledged to introduce separate service desks in district offices, develop a code of conduct for officials and city council and transparent rules for subsidising NGOs. In 2004, during a meeting to be organized by the Batory Foundation in Warsaw, an evaluation of the action plans will be presented by the teams from each city.

Civic education

Youth education

In 2003 we continued our co-operation with the Civic Education Centre (CEC), which prepares teachers to introduce anti-corruption subjects in schools. Within the frames of the training prepared by the CEC, the employees of the Program conducted classes on the problem of corruption and the chances of combating it. We co-operate with CEC also on the introduction of corruption combating issues in tertiary education. We presented our experience in this matter on an UNDP international seminar on corruption in the educational system.

During the 11th School for Young Community and Political Leaders organized by the School of Leaders Association, we provided training on corruption and corruption control.

Contest for the students

In 2003, we organized the second edition of the contest for the best students' paper on the legal, social, ethical and economic aspects of corruption. The Contest Committee which included: Alina Hussein (the Superior Chamber of Control), Dr Joanna Śmigieliska (Institute of Applied Social Studies, Warsaw University), Dr Piotr Girdwoyń (Law and Administration Faculty, Warsaw University) and Dr Ryszard Żelichowski (Institute of Political Studies, the Polish Academy of Science) awarded three papers.

- the first prize of PLN 2 200 was awarded to Justyna Dębowska for the MA thesis Corruption at a higher education institution based on the experiences and opinions of the students of Łódź University and Łódź University of Technology, written under the guidance of Dr Anna Kubiak at the Faculty of Economy and Sociology, Institute of Sociology, Łódź University.

- the second prize of PLN 1 200 was awarded to Eliza Wancerz for the BA thesis Social and psychological impact of corruption in the opinions and attitudes of the students of the faculty of law, written under the guidance of Dr Krystyna Wojciechowska at the Out-of-town Faculty of the Bogdan Jański Higher School in Chelm.

Anti-Corruption Program

- the third prize of PLN 800 was awarded to Katarzyna Sabata for the MA thesis Administrative and legal tools of preventing corruption in the local government, written under the guidance of Prof. Małgorzata Stahl at the Faculty of Law and Administration, Łódź University.

Equal Opportunities Program

The Program assists local organisations working to enhance access to education for young people from small towns and impoverished communities, as well as those striving to counteract social exclusion of physically and mentally disabled children by providing them with education and personal development opportunities.

Equal Opportunities – Local Scholarship Programs

The project, carried on from 2000, aims at assisting the establishment of an alternative scholarships system for young people wishing to continue high-school education. In pursuing this initiative, we hope to assist talented youth from low-income families by putting in place new mechanisms for financing scholarships that base on local resources. The local scholarship funds established with our assistance raise money for scholarship grants from local businesses, individual donors, and the local governments. Such funds operate on the basis of their own charters, drawn up by special scholarship committees; the scholarships awarded by them, varying between PLN 50 and 250 per month, are used to purchase textbooks and other learning aides, to pay for lodging, extra courses, commuting to school, etc. The decision to award a scholarship is usually based on the applicant's school record and on the financial standing of her/his family, sometimes also on involvement in community service and in similar non-academic pursuits.

In 2003 the project involved 35 organizations. The Foundation provided them with training in the area of establishment, management, and promotion of scholarship programs, raising and administration of funds, and building local coalitions. Upon meeting the condition of raising a declared amount of funds from local resources, each organization received a grant from the Stefan Batory Foundation towards increase of the scholarship fund. In 2003 the organizations participating in the project raised PLN 953,621 in local communities. This amount increased by the grant provided by the Stefan Batory Foundation, Levi Strauss & Co., and Mrs. and Mr. Miechowicz totaling PLN 668,750 financed 1283 monthly scholarships in the school year 2003/2004.

Rainbow Academy

This project targets organisations that operate in small towns and rural areas and engage in activities to assist mentally and physically disabled children. The ultimate purpose is to improve the children's opportunities for education, and to overcome their social exclusion. The grants are awarded on a competitive basis to organisations operating in locations with a population below 20,000.

The first edition of the competition covered Lublin, Łódź, Małopolska, Podkarpackie, Silesia, and Świętokrzyskie provinces, the second – Podlasie, Varmia-and-Mazurian, West Pomeranian, Kujawsko-Pomorskie, and Lower Silesian. Grants were made to support projects that use art and creative work in education and therapy for disabled children, as well as projects serving to integrate disabled children with their peers and their community. We offered priority to projects which were part of long-term efforts, relied on work with the local community and involved volunteers and the families of needy children.

Grants were co-funded by Commercial Union Poland (PLN 100,750.00), and by the M Fund established by a private donor (PLN 60,500.00).

The Commercial Union Charitable Fund

For the past eight years, the Foundation has been co-operating with the insurance company Commercial Union Poland, which has been providing us with donations to support the disabled, children and youth. In 2003, from the Commercial Union's funds we made 22 grants for integration and education of disabled children projects (grants are listed and described below under the Rainbow Academy section).

The Foundation manages also Commercial Union Charitable Fund used to finance endeavours identified by the donor, involving support for the sick and needy people, as well as support to educational projects.

The M Fund

In 2002, thanks to a donation made to the Foundation by a private donor, M Endowment Fund was established. Income generated by the Fund is annually spent for various forms of assistance to needy children. In 2003, M Fund earnings were used to finance 11 grants for integration and education of disabled children projects (grants are listed and described below under the Rainbow Academy section).

In line with the wish of the M Fund founder a part of the annual earnings on the investment of the Fund was allocated to the purposes identified by the donor involving support for sick children and children in need of care.

International Cooperation Program

European Union Enlargement changes the character of Poland's relations with its eastern neighbours. On one hand, introducing visas for Belarus, Ukraine and Russia has created a barrier in mutual contacts and may result in a growing feeling of exclusion from the common Europe in those societies. On the other hand, the enlargement process increases the chances for active policy of the enlarged European Union in relation to its new members in the East; policy that supports the development of democracy, civil society and closer bonds with the united Europe and does not exclude the perspective of those countries' future membership in the EU. Therefore, in cooperation with pro-European elites of those countries we have presented the concepts of developing closer relations of this region of Europe with the UE, we have supported the idea of open border between the member states and the countries aspiring to the UE membership and we have held a debate on the common historical heritage of our part of Europe.

Much of our efforts in 2003 were devoted to the preparation of Polish third sector for functioning in the united Europe and to the presentation of advantages and opportunities opened by European integration. We have been involved, among others, in the campaign aimed to enhance the turn out in the European Referendum. We have worked to increase Poland's activity in the international assistance efforts convinced that Poland's EU membership entails the necessity of developing this element of Polish foreign policy.

The program activities in 2003 were co-financed by the network programs of the Open Society Institute: East-East Program (PLN 266,489.69), Belarus Program (PLN 42,607.88), EU Accession Monitoring Program (PLN 16,551.58), Arts and Culture Network Program (PLN 15,200) as well as by: German Marshall Memorial Fund of the United States (PLN 41,455.04), the Polish-American-Ukrainian Cooperation Initiative PAUCI (PLN 192,529.22), National Endowment for Democracy (PLN 90,466.52), Charity Aid Foundation (PLN 51,505.42) and the European Commission (PLN 10,217.90).

Common Europe

The EU Enlargement and Neighbourhood Policy Conference

In cooperation with the Polish Ministry of Foreign Affairs we organised an international conference in Warsaw on February 20-21, 2003. The participants of the conference included outstanding experts, present and former politicians and high officials from the EU member states, candidate countries and future eastern neighbours of the European Union. The conference was opened by President Aleksander Kwaśniewski, and the stance of the Polish Government on the future policy of the enlarged European Union towards its new neighbours was presented by the Minister of Foreign Affairs Włodzimierz Cimoszewicz.

During the Conference sessions discussions were held on the proposals of the European Union towards its new eastern neighbours. The following questions were discussed: what shall be the influence of the new member states on the eastern policy of the European Union? What conclusions can we draw from the current policy of the European Union towards its neighbours? How can we use of the TACIS assistance program for the countries of former Soviet Union in the EU policy towards its new neighbours?

The participants of the conference included, among others Dumitru Braghis (former Prime Minister of Moldavia), Paval Daneyka (President of the Institute of Privatisation and Management, Minsk), Marek Dąbrowski (Chairman of CASE Foundation Council, Warsaw), Alistair MacDonald (Head of Unit for Eastern Europe, Caucasus and Central Asian Republics in the European Commission), Bronisław Geremek (former Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Poland), Jurij Jekhanurov (Chairman of the Commission for Industrial Policy and Entrepreneurship of the Ukraine Supreme Council), Christoph Jessen (Commissioner for EU Enlargement in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Federal Republic of Germany), Bronisław Komorowski (former Minister of National Defence of the Republic of Poland), Krzysztof Lis (President of the Institute for Business Development, Warsaw), Tadeusz Mazowiecki (former Prime Minister of the Republic of Poland), Victor Martins (former Secretary of State for European Affairs in Portugal), Antonio Missiroli (Analyst of the Institute for EU Security Studies, Paris), Dominique Moïsi (Director of the French Institute of International Affairs, Paris), Fernando Moran Lopez (former Spanish Minister of Foreign Affairs), Józef Oleksy (Chairman of the Parliamentary European Committee, Warsaw), Sergiej Rogov (Director of the Institute for American and Canadian Studies of the Russian Academy of Sciences, Moscow), Jacek Saryusz-Wolski (former Secretary of the Committee for European Integration, Warsaw), Antti Satuli (Finnish Deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs), Heather Grabbe (Research Director of the Centre for European Reforms, London), Boris Tarasyuk (Chairman of the Committee for European Integration of the Ukraine Supreme Council), Vincuk Viacorka, (Chairman of the Belarusian National Front – BNF), Andriej Zagorski (Director of the Institute for Applied International Studies, Moscow).

In connection with the conference we prepared two publications. The first one: The EU Neighbourhood Policy. History Lessons (by Klaus Bachmann, Paweł J. Borkowski, Dorota Heidrich and Agnieszka Mazur-Barańska) discussed the influence of some member states on the EU policy towards its close and more distant neighbours. It also includes a bibliography of Polish literature on eastern policy of the EU. The other one is a conference report entitled The EU Enlargement and Neighbourhood Policy (elaborated by Agnieszka Mazur-Barańska and Wojciech Stanisławski) published in Polish and English.

European Citizenship Conference

On March 21-22, 2003 we organised an international conference Forum on European Citizenship in cooperation with Charities Aid Foundation from Great Britain, Euro Citizen Action Service and the Polish NGO Office in Brussels. The conference was co-financed by the EC Directorate General for Education and Culture. The participants of the conference were representatives of academic circles, activists of non-governmental organisations for civic counselling and

On May 29, 2003 we co-organised the meeting of the Reflection Group on the Spiritual and Cultural Dimension of Europe, established by Romano Prodi, President of the European Commission and headed by Professor Krzysztof Michalski, Director of the Institute for Human Sciences in Vienna. The discussed questions included the identity shaping process in the new European Union and relations with countries outside the EU. The discussion was held under the auspices of President Aleksander Kwaśniewski (the meeting took place in the Belvedere Palace). The participants were outstanding intellectuals and politicians from the EU member states, Russia, Ukraine and Turkey.

The participants of the meeting included: Candan Azer (Ambassador of Turkey to Poland), Kurt Biedenkopf (former Prime Minister of Saxony), Bruno DeThomas (representative of the European Commission in Poland), Timothy Garton Ash (Professor at the Oxford University), Bronisław Geremek (former Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Poland), Sandro Gozi (Cabinet of the European Commission President), Jaroslav Hrycak (historian, Ivan Franko University in Lviv), Danuta Hübner (Secretary of State, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Warsaw), Will Hutton (former Editor-in-Chief of the Observer), Tadeusz Iwiński (Secretary of State, Prime Minister's Office), Grigorij Javlinski (President of the Jabloko Party, Moscow), Lena Kolarska-Bobińska (Director of the Institute of Public Affairs), Jurij Levada (sociologist, Moscow), Tadeusz Mazowiecki (former Prime Minister of Poland), Krzysztof Michalski (Director of the Institute for Human Sciences in Vienna), Piotr Nowina-Konopka (Deputy Vice-Chancellor of European College in Natolin), Wanda Rapaczyńska (President of the Board, Agora S.A), Mykola Riabczuk (Editor of Krytyka, Kiev), Adam Daniel Rotfeld (Undersecretary of State, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Warsaw), Aleksander Smolar (President of the Stefan Batory Foundation), Karel Jan Schwarzenberg (former Head of President's Vaclav Havel Chancellery), Jolanta Szymanek-Deresz (Head of the Polish President's Chancellery), Yasar Yakis (former Minister of Foreign Affairs, Turkey).

The discussion in the Belvedere Palace was the first public debate accompanying the regular meetings of the group. Successive discussions were planned to take place in Paris, Vienna and Berlin.

Displaced Cultural Property Conference

On May 30-31, 2003 the Stefan Batory Foundation organised the conference Cultural Assets and Property Problems – Experiences in Central Europe after 1989. The meeting focused on the problem of property rights to works of art taken over by the state in the communist era. A comparison was made between the legal ownership solutions adopted in various countries for private persons, social organisations, churches and religious associations.

The speakers included: Fero Alexander (Central Association of Jewish Religious Communities in Slovakia, Bratislava), Algis Balezentis (lawyer, Ministry of Justice, Vilnius), Grażyna Dremaite (conservator, President of the State Commission for Conservation of Lithuanian Monuments, Vilnius), Franciszek Cemka (Ministry of Culture, Warsaw), Nawojka Cieślińska-Lobkowicz (art historian, Forum on Dispersed Cultural Assets, Warsaw), Dorota Folga-Januszewska (art historian, National Museum in Warsaw), István Fodor (historian, archaeologist, Hungarian National Museum in Budapest), Gábor Galik (lawyer, Prime Minister's Cabinet, Budapest), Hans-Joachim Hinz (historian, scientific information service – Dr. Tatzkow and Partners, Berlin), Pavel Jirásek (economist, Ministry of Culture, the Czech Republic), Jan Kudrna (lawyer, Law Department of Karl University in Prague), Serhij Kot (historian, Institute of Ukrainian History of the National Academy of Sciences in Ukraine, Kiev), Wojciech Kowalski (lawyer, honorary Ambassador, Polish Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Warsaw), Jaroslaw Lobkowicz (member of Parliament, member of the Parliamentary Association of the Council of Europe in Strasbourg, Prague), Astrid Müller-Katzenburg (lawyer, barrister, Berlin), Ágnes Peresztegi (lawyer, Restitution Committee of the Hungarian Jewish Communities Association, Budapest), Jacek Purchla (art historian, International Centre of Culture in Cracow), Andrzej Rottermund (art historian, the Royal Castle in Warsaw), Stefan Turner (Lawyer, Research Institute for International Protection of Cultural Assets, Saarbrücken).

The conference was the third meeting in the Displaced Cultural Property cycle organised by the Stefan Batory Foundation since 2002 devoted to the problem of lost or displaced cultural property which in the result of wars and border shifts were moved to the territory of other states. We would like to hold public debates on this controversial topic that has been passed over in silence for many years and contribute to the process of elaborating a common stance of Central and Eastern European Countries on this issue on the international forum.

Hearing from Europe
Teleconference

The Stefan Batory Foundation co-organised the teleconference on the future of Europe, which was held on June 23, 2003. The teleconference was a part of the project Hearing from Europe – a discussion involving representatives of EU Member States and accession countries.

The participants of the discussion included: representatives of Ireland – Alan Dukes (former Minister of Transport, Energy and Communication, General Director of the Institute for European Affairs), Garret FitzGerald (former Prime Minister of Ireland), Paul Gillespie (Head of Foreign Department The Irish Times), Turlough O'Sullivan (General Director of the Irish Confederation of Business and Employers); representatives of Poland – Henryka Bochniarz (President of the Polish Confederation of Private Employers), Danuta Hübner (Minister for European Affairs), Aleksander Smolar (President of the Stefan Batory Foundation), Henning Tewes (Director of the Konrad Adenauer Foundation in Poland) and representatives of Portugal – Victor Martins (Senior Consultant of the European Investment Bank in Citigroup and former Secretary of State for European Affairs), Guilherme d'Oliveira Martins (Member of Parliament and Member of the European Convent), Francisco Sarsfield Cabral (journalist, Rádio Renascença), Alvaro de Vasconcelos (Director of the Institute for Strategic and International Studies). The debate was moderated by Giles Merritt (journalist and Secretary General of Friends of Europe Association), and presentations were commented by Antonio Vitorino (UE Commissioner for Internal Affairs and Justice).

The meetings were broadcast live on the Internet, and brief reports were presented by numerous European TV stations. The coordinator of the pan-European project was the Friends of Europe Association, and the discussion in Poland was co-organised by the Konrad Adenauer Foundation. Media patronage over the conference was held by TVN 24.

The Enlarged European Union and Ukraine: New Relations

The Enlarged European Union and Ukraine project was launched in 2002. It aims at evaluating the relations between the EU and Ukraine, analysing the influence of the EU enlargement on those relations and at preparing possible strategies and specific solutions concerning the relations between the enlarged Union and Ukraine, a country that will become EU immediate neighbour after 2004. We prepare a set of political, social and economic analyses and reports and recommendations concerning, among others, the new EU policy towards Ukraine and necessary changes to be introduced in Ukraine in the light of integration processes. The termination of the project is planned for 2004. The project is implemented in cooperation with Ukrainian partners (mainly the Renaissance Foundation from Kiev) and Polish and foreign institutions, with the financial aid of the Polish-American-Ukrainian Cooperation Initiative (PAUCI).

More than a Neighbour
– Proposals for the EU's Future Policy towards Ukraine,
Report

In 2003, within the frames of the project an initial report was prepared entitled More than a Neighbour – Proposals for the EU's Future Policy towards Ukraine, which was presented in February at the headquarters of the Centre for European Policy Studies in Brussels. EU officials, diplomats, experts and journalists participated in the discussion on the report. In June, we presented the Ukrainian edition of the report in Kiev. In 2003, experts were working on the project of the final report. Two seminars (January and June) took place and in the fall a final version of the report was prepared. On the Foundation's website 12 analyses on various aspects of relations between the EU and Ukraine prepared by the experts participating in the project were posted Experts participating in the project: Mirosław Bieniecki (Central European University, Warsaw), Dr Hanna Bojar (Institute of Sociology of the Polish Academy of Science, Warsaw), Jakub Boratyński (the Stefan Batory Foundation, Warsaw), Alexander Duleba (Slovak Foreign Policy Association, Bratislava), Michael Emerson (Centre for European Policy Studies, Brussels), Grzegorz Gromadzi (the Stefan Batory Foundation, Warsaw), Prof. Olexiy Haran (Kiev-Mohylan Academy), Małgorzata Jakubiak (Centre for Socio-Economic Analyses, Warsaw), Joanna Konieczna (Institute of Sociology of the Warsaw University), Iryna Kravchuk (European and Comparative Law Centre, Kiev), Prof. Joanna Kurczewska (Institute of Sociology of the Polish Academy of Science, Warsaw), Zsuzsanna Ludvig (Institute for World Economics, Budapest), Hryhorij Nemryia (Renaissance Foundation, Kiev), László Póti (Institute for Strategic and Defence Studies, Budapest), Oleksandr Sushko (Center for Peace, Conversion and Foreign Policy of Ukraine, Kiev), Marius Vahl (Centre for European Policy Studies, Brussels), Kataryna Wolczuk (Centre for Russian and East European Studies, University of Birmingham), Przemysław Żurawski vel Grajewski (the faculty of International and Political Studies of the University of Łódź).

Poles and Ukrainians,
Poland and Ukraine
Sociological studies

Next to analyses and reports, a very important part of the project constituted sociological research. We conducted four studies: two in Ukraine and two in Poland. In January 2003, in the Foundation's main office, and in June in Kiev, the results of the 2002 public opinion polls in Poland were presented. They concerned the attitude of Poles towards the economic migration and towards the introduction of visas for the citizens of Ukraine. The studies' results, entitled Poles and Ukrainians, Poland and Ukraine. The Paradoxes of Neighbourly Relations (by Joanna Konieczna) were posted on the Foundation's website and published in the Ukrainian language. In the summer of 2003 we conducted a public opinion poll in Ukraine on the attitude towards the EU enlargement process and its effects on Ukraine and on the economic migration of Ukrainians to the neighbouring countries. The results of the poll were presented in October in Wrocław, during the conference devoted to the Polish-Ukrainian cooperation, organised by the Collegium of Eastern Europe.

Besides public opinion polls, in both countries the so called qualitative studies were conducted. The studies conducted in Ukraine included 30 interviews with Ukrainian politicians and persons known to the public. We obtained a vast set of exhaustive and highly differentiated opinions of the representatives of Ukrainian elites on the relations between Ukraine and the EU. The interviews conducted in Ukraine were published in English and Ukrainian. In spring, a group of sociologists from the Polish Academy of Science under the guidance of prof. Joanna Kurczewska conducted 70 interviews on the Polish-Ukrainian mutual relationships following the EU accession. Among the interviewed were Poles (the representatives of local authorities, border guards and police, businessmen and NGO activists) and Ukrainian citizens living and working (legally and illegally) in Poland. Information on the project, including, among others, the list of experts and publications, is available on the Batory Foundation website: www.batory.org.pl/english/intl/ukraina.htm.

European Choice for Belarus

Reforms for Belarus

In 2002 we launched a project aimed to initiate a joint work of independent Belarus experts on collection of recommendations concerning the direction of reforms in Belarus. The project received grant from the National Endowment for Democracy.

In 2003 four meetings of teams of experts took place. They worked on: the concept of economic reforms (6-9 February), political reforms (7-9 March), social reforms (11-13 April) and the reforms in the field of education (25-27 April and 30 May -1 June). Current and future EU policy towards Belarus was also discussed. Participants of the meetings included the representatives of various expert circles from state and independent research centres, academic centres and NGOs as well as journalists.

The participants of the project included a large group from Belarus and guests from Eastern and Central European countries: Galina Agapova (Estonia), Dariusz Filar (Poland), Elka Georgieva-Nikolova (Bulgaria), Ihor Kolushko (Ukraine), Martin Valentovič (Slovakia), Tomasz Żukowski (Poland), Elżbieta Królikowska (Poland), Józef Płoskonka (Poland), Vladyslav Romanov (Ukraine), Ruta Vainiene (Lithuania).

The findings of the project were published in Belarus: Reform Scenarios (edited by: Ales Antsipenka, Valer Bulhakau, Agnieszka Komorowska), presenting the possible scenarios of future democratic and pro-European reforms in Belarus. Their authors of the publication include: Nina Antanovich, Lavon Barshcheuski, Mikalai Burdyka, Pavel Daneyka, Henadz Hermanovich, Mikhail Husakouski, Alena Karpievich, Andrus Klikonou, Ales Lahviniets, Uladzimer Lukevich, Alyksandar Macias, Syarhey Pyatsinkin, Uladzimer Rouda, Galina Rusetskaya, Sofia Savelava, Alyksandar Sasnou, Valery Sidarchuk, Pavel Terashkovich, Andrei Vardamatski, Galina Verameychik, Mikalai Zaprudzki, Barys Zhaliba, Alyksandr Zhuchkou. The scenarios were published in three languages: Belarusian, Russian and English.

On November 3, 2003 the first out of three scheduled presentations of this publication took place in Minsk, Belarus, attended by the experts, politicians and journalists including: Stanislav Bohdankievich (United Civic Party), Valer Karbalevich (analyst, Strategia Centre, Minsk), Uladzimer Parfyanovich (deputy, National Assembly – House of Representatives), Ihor Pelipas (Privatisation and Management Institute, Minsk), Vincuk Viachorka (Belarus Peoples' Front). Tadeusz Pawlak, Polish ambassador in Belarus, also participated in the meeting.

On November 27, 2003 the publication was presented in Warsaw. Polish presentation was accompanied by the discussion moderated by Aleksander Smolar Can Belarus be Reformed? Our guests included Anatoly Lebedko (United Civic Party), Zhanna Litvina (president of the Union of Journalists of Belarus), Alyksandr Milinkievich (NGO activist), Vitalij Silicki (economist and political science specialist) and Vincuk Viachorka.

Polish Reforms. Internships for Young Academics from Belarus

Since the year 2000, we have been operating a scholarship program for young scientists from Belarus in the fields of economy, law, and sociology, enabling them to attend internships at Polish universities and research institutions. Internships are to help prepare the community of young Belarusian scientists for reform in their own country.

In 2003 the following institutions hosted the Belarusian interns: Commissioner for Civil Rights Protection Office, the Polish Academy of Science (Institutes of Philosophy and Sociology, of Legal Sciences, of Rural and Agriculture Development), the Warsaw School of Economics SGH (Institute of Statistics and Demography, International Marketing Department, International Finance Department, Collegium of Management and Finance), University of Silesia (Faculty of Law and Administration) and Warsaw University (Institute of Criminal Law, Institute of Applied Social Sciences, Faculty of Geography and Regional Studies, Faculty of Management, Department of Macro Economy and Small Business Department).

The following interns enrolled in the program: Galina Aleksava (Minsk), Alyaksey Anishchanka (Minsk), Natalia Anohina (Minsk), Syarkhey Artsemyeu (Minsk), Olga Belaia (Minsk), Tatsiana Bratsyankava (Minsk), Mikalai Burdyka (Minsk), Andrey Buyeu (Osipoviche), Nadzeya Yurashevich (Minsk), Volha Karnitskaya (Minsk), Mikhail Kolbuh (Minsk), Alyaksey Lastouski (Lukashova), Yuri Luka (Minsk), Pavel Mishyn (Novopolotsk), Vadzim Paulau (Minsk), Liliya Razaronava (Minsk) and Yuri Zvirblov (Minsk).

Roads to Democracy and the Free Market.
Lectures in Belarus

In 2001, we began organizing a series of lectures on Roads to Democracy and the Free Market at universities of Belarus, to debate issues of economic and system transformation in countries of the region. In April 2003 lectures on Structural changes in Polish economy on our way to EU were delivered by prof. Jerzy Osiatyński and Transformation of the legal system in Poland in relation with the EU accession were delivered by Michał Skwierczyński of the Department of European Law of the Office of the Committee for the European Integration. Further lectures delivered in May by prof. Zdzisław Najder were about Polish plans for the European eastern policy. Those attending the lectures were the students of the Belarusian State University, the European University of Humanities, the Institute of Legal Sciences and the independent education initiative Belarusian Collegium. The lecturers attended meetings with young economists of the Institute of Management and Privatisation, the journalists of Białoruskij Rynok and politicians. All lectures have been organised together with the Polish Institute in Minsk and the Belarusian Schuman Society.

Monitoring of the Openness of Polish Eastern Borders

It is a joint project of the Batory Foundation and the Helsinki Human Rights Foundation aimed at promoting the idea of a friendly and open Eastern EU border. In June 2003 we jointly presented the report Monitoring of Polish Eastern Borders (by Jakub Boratyński, Marta Kindler, Irena Rzeplińska, Karolina Stawicka, Ernest Zienkiewicz) prepared on the basis of a survey conducted in 2002 among foreigners crossing Polish eastern border. This report presents the image of a Polish border as seen by the foreigners from the East and includes suggestions and recommendations concerning the improvement of attitude towards foreigners and the development of the infrastructure of border crossings on the eastern border. The findings of the report were handed to border services and institutions in charge of Polish eastern policy.

In the summer of 2003 we began preparing for the second phase of the project, in which we monitor the procedures of issuing visas to the citizens of Belarus, Russia and Ukraine by Polish consulates (since October 1, 2003, travellers from those countries entering Poland must have Polish visas). Involved in the implementation of the project are also Collegium Civitas from Warsaw and NGOs from the East: Kowczeg Association (Odessa), the Organisation for the Protection of the Rights of the Youth of Volyn (Luck), European Dialogue (Lviv), Centre for Peace, Conversion and Ukraine Foreign Policy (Kiev), Charkov Group for Human Rights Protection, Centre for Social and Political Studies Strategia (St. Petersburg), the Moscow Helsinki Group, Kaliningrad Regional Social Organisation Regiomonti. Organisations from Belarus also participated in the project. On the basis of our partners' reports on the procedure of issuing visa in the first two weeks after their introduction, we passed our initial suggestions and remarks concerning visa procedures to the Polish Ministry of Foreign Affairs. In October and November the working meetings of partner organisations were held to prepare them for the monitoring survey. During one of those meetings, the importance of this project in terms of human and foreigners' rights protection was stressed by, among others, Siergiej Kovaliov (former Commissioner for Civil Rights Protection in Russia) and Ljudmila Aleksiejeva (president of the International Helsinki Federation of Human Rights).

Cooperation in the Region

The Journalists' Club project – targeting regional press journalists from Belarus, Poland and Ukraine – comprises a series of study tours to the purpose of establishing a contact network and information exchange, thus raising the number of press articles on conditions in states of the region, and serving to overcome any existent prejudice and stereotypes. The Club was initiated in 2001.

The first study visit in 2003 (March 24-28, Warsaw) was devoted to the analysis of stereotypes present in press articles, radio and TV programs. The journalists discussed e.g. stereotypes on women, national minorities, AIDS victims, the drug addicted and mentally ill persons as well as the importance of national stereotypes in common relations between the citizens of Belarus, Poland and Ukraine.

The second study visit (October 19-23, Lviv, October 23-26, Przemyśl) was devoted to the situation on both sides of the Polish-Belarusian border and Polish-Ukrainian border following the introduction of visas. The effects of the visa system on the political and economic cooperation were discussed: problems arising in terms of cross-border cooperation, regulations of issuing visa for the citizens of Belarus and Ukraine, conditions, procedures and methods of operation at Polish consulates in Ukraine. The participants visited also Polish and Ukrainian Customs Offices and two border crossings: in Rawa Ruska and Korczowa. The study visit was co-organized by the Meridian Centre on Information Studies from Lviv headed by Oleksandr Lavrynovich, one of the journalists' club members.

In the study visits of 2003 the journalists from the following Belarusian newspapers participated – Birza Informacii (Grodno), Info-Kurier (Slutsk), Inform-Progulka (Luninets), Intex-Press (Gorodishche), Kurier iz Borisova (Borisov), Vitebskij Kurier (Vitebsk); Polish – Gazeta Krakowska (Cracow), Kurier Lubelski (Lublin), Nowiny (Rzeszów), Tygodnik Powszechny (Cracow); Ukrainian – Tchernihivski Vidomosti (Chernihiv), Halytchyna (Ivano-Frankovsk), Ilitcheviev (Mariupol), Interfax-Ukraina (Odessa), Naddniprianska Pravda (Cherson), Nova Ternopil'ska Hazeta (Tarnopil), Radio Svoboda (Donetsk), Sim NeibDni, (Rivne), Starij Zamok (Uzhorod), Territoria (Odessa), Urjadovyj Kurier (Rivne), Vilne Slovo (Zhytomyr), Vriemnia Cze (Odessa), Wysokij Zamok (Lviv).

Since 2000 we have been supporting initiatives aimed at the development of cooperation between various stakeholder groups (local government, cultural and academic institutions, non-governmental organisations and business associations) in the Kaliningrad District, Poland and Lithuania. The main partners of the project are: Elbląg Association for NGO Initiative Support and Borussia Cultural Community Association. In 2003 a coalition of 30 institutions, organisations and companies interested in cooperation was established, within which the following task groups were initiated – on youth issues, civic organisations, business, culture and education, tourism and local governments cooperation.

In December 15, a seminar on cooperation between the Varmia and Mazurian Province and the Kaliningrad District was held, co-organised by the Olsztyn Municipal Authority Office, the President of Elbląg and Elbląg Association for NGO Initiative Support.

The project was launched in 2000 jointly with the editing office of the Mówią Wieki monthly magazine to promote innovative methods of teaching history in schools. In 2003, subsequent brochure of this series was published, entitled: Alternative History: A Polish-Russian meeting (bilingual edition – Polish-Russian, edited by Bogusław Kubisz). It included: the introduction by Rafał Jaworski (the Warsaw University) and Jarosław Krawczyk (editorial office of the Mówią Wieki) as well as the materials from the meeting, participated by teachers and students of the Stanisław Wyspiański Secondary School in Biecz, the IX Secondary School of Bydgoszcz, the Complex of Electrical-Energetical Schools in Wałbrzych and the 40 School in Kaliningrad as well as schools from Rostov-on-Don.

Polish NGOs Abroad

Since the spring of 2001, a Foundation-initiated Working Group of Polish NGOs Active Internationally has been in operation. The Foundation actively participates in Group's activities. In January 2003 the representatives of the Group were invited to the Council for Cooperation with NGOs established at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. In the frame of dialogue with the Foreign Ministry the Group consulted Polish strategy of cooperation for development, adopted by the Council of Ministers in October 2003.

The Group published a paper Poland-Ukraine. The Cooperation of NGOs, in which the experience from Polish and Ukrainian NGOs' cooperation were presented. Working group representatives took part in the annual Economic Forum in Krynica, where achievements of Polish non-governmental organisations operating in Central and Eastern Europe and Central Asia were presented. In November 2003 they participated in the conference organised by the Polish Embassy in Kiev on the cooperation of Polish and Ukrainian NGOs after Poland's accession to the EU. During the Forum and Kiev conference an exhibition documenting the activity of Polish NGOs in Ukraine was presented.

Since the fall the secretariat of the Group is maintained from the contributions of organisations creating the Polish NGOs Abroad Group and grants from the Canadian International Development Agency – Official Development Assistance in Central Europe, CIDA-ODACE. The Group also undertook actions aimed at changing the informal character of the coalition of NGOs into a union of associations. The website www.go2east.ngo.pl, on the activities of Polish NGOs operating abroad, was developed.

On March 31 – April 1, 2003 we organised a training seminar Polish NGOs Working Abroad. Prospects for Cooperation Following Poland's Entry into the EU for the members of the Polish NGOs Abroad Group, with Claudia Bonk, the representative of the federation of non-governmental organisations CONCORD (grouping European organisations dealing with international development) and Jeremy Nagoda, the representative of the European Commission (Europe Aid). During the seminar the cooperation of Polish organisations with EU institutions was discussed (including the use of funds destined for foreign aid) as well as the cooperation with the European representation of NGOs dealing with development aid.

Polish NGO Office in Brussels

Initiated and supported by the Batory Foundation, the Polish NGO Office in Brussels is a joint action of several organisations, the main partner in the implementation of this project is the Association for the Forum on Non-Governmental Initiatives. The Office works to prepare organisations to an active participation in the European integration process, the promotion of the Polish third sector in the EU institutions and initiating the cooperation with networks of NGOs operating in the EU. The Office informed on European issues essential from the point of view of NGOs, assisted in initiating cooperation between Polish and European partners, presented the positions of NGOs, among others, before the convention preparing the EU constitutional treaty and advocated for a better access to European funds by e.g. coordinating the protest when Polish government did not plan funds for the development of a civil society in PHARE 2002 program. The protest resulted in the invitation for non-government community to the consultations on PHARE 2003 program and earmarking part of its funds to NGOs. The Office co-ordinated the action of an open letter to the Commissioner Günter Verheugen concerning the ongoing debate in the EU on the policy for neighbours. It was signed by over 300 organisations from the accessing countries and the countries of Eastern Europe – future EU neighbours.

Information and Education in Relation to the EU Accession

7 papers were prepared within the Poles in the European Union project, initiated in 2002. Three were published in 2003: Farmers, and Rural Development (in cooperation with the Rural Development Foundation) and Culture (in cooperation with the national Centre for Culture). In the booklets we presented the EU assistance programs and tried to answer the most frequently asked questions. The booklets were distributed all over Poland before and after the referendum on the accession with the help of such institutions as: Regional European Information Centres, Office for the Protection of Consumer Rights and Competition, Federation of Consumers and Consumer Federation Clubs, Citizen Assistance Offices, the Polish Agency for Entrepreneurship Development, the SPLOT Non-Governmental Organisations Support Network Centres, Foundation in Support of Local Democracy centres with its regional offices, Euro-info Centres, Polish Council for the European Movement, National Centre for Culture.

For the third time, a Foundation-initiated competition on simulations of EU accession negotiations for high school students was organized. The main organiser of the third edition was the Foundation in Support of Local Democracy. The competition was organised under the auspices of the Chief Negotiator of the Republic of Poland and the European Commission's Representative Office in Poland. Gazeta Wyborcza daily, Unia & Polska magazine together with education website Eduseek became media patrons for the third edition of the event. In 2003 more than 320 schools from all over Poland participated in three stages of the contest (at school, regional and national levels). The contest provided also an opportunity for local communities to engage in debates on the Polish accession to the European Union; its subsequent stages involved community events: festivals, European Days, referenda organised by schools together with local partners.

Four school teams were recognised as contest winners: the V August Witkowski Secondary School from Cracow, the Mikołaj Rej Secondary School from Jędrzejów, the III Polish Navy Secondary School from Gdynia and the Tadeusz Kościuszko Secondary School from Gorzów Wielkopolski. The team from Cracow was awarded the title of Primus inter pares. Winners received the Young Negotiator Certificate and a study visit to Brussels. Teachers-supervisors of the teams and regional contest coordinators also participated in the June visit to European institutions. During the finals the results of a mini-contest for the title of Regional Reporter of Become a Negotiator! Competition were announced by the Jury: five distinctions, ex aequo, went to five winners.

The Negotiator's Vademecum materials developed for the competition (student and teacher handbooks and CD-ROM) are used as a teaching aid in European education. Additionally, a ZostanNegocjatorem@ngo.pl discussion group was set up for young negotiators and teachers.

The Foundation works with the World Bank and the Bertelsmann Foundation as part of the euintegration.net project targeting the development of valuable European Union reference material on the web, and more efficient information exchange among EU candidate countries. Our task is to encourage Polish institutions to engage in a joint effort to found a web-based library with a collection of reports, analyses and papers drafted in candidate states on selected topics concerning EU integration.

Reports of the European Accession Monitoring Program (EUAMP)

In 2003 we were disseminating the reports prepared in 2002 within the frames of cooperation with the EUAMP Open Society Institute Program: Judiciary Efficiency (by Łukasz Bojarski) and Minority Protection (by Beata Klimkiewicz).

We made a grant to the Local Government Institute of Małopolska to organise a debate with the participation of the representatives of Roma communities and local governments on the Minority protection report.

Study Visits by the German Marshall Memorial Fund Fellows

We organised two visits of American GMMF fellows to Poland (Cracow-Warsaw, 29 March – 1 April, 14-17 June) to present Poland's recent problems and achievements as well as development prospects. During the meetings Polish political and social perspective was discussed, as well as the situation of the Catholic Church alongside religious and ethnic minorities in Poland; other topics focused on changes in the educational system and the non-governmental sector development. The visit was organised in collaboration with the German Marshall Memorial Fund of the United States.

Twin Cities Program

The Twin Cities Program is a joint Polish–German and Czech–German program carried out by the Batory Foundation in partnership with the Robert Bosch Foundation in Germany and NGO Information Centre in the Czech Republic. The program, initiated and financed by the Robert Bosch Foundation, aims to develop and encourage cooperation between twinned cities, towns and municipalities in neighbouring countries through supporting joint projects and activities of local organisations on both sides of the border.

Both Poland and the Czech Republic have several hundred Polish-German and Czech-German twin towns and municipalities. Local authorities sign agreements, and are the key entity in defining the form of partner relations, sometimes indeed involving actual and effective cooperation, albeit sometimes being no more than an artificial paper entry. As part of the Twin Cities Program – implemented simultaneously in Poland and the Czech Republic – we wish to encourage non-governmental organisations to take action to boost cooperation between twin towns and municipalities. We hope that such action will bring authentic cooperation between citizens of neighbouring states, stimulate local communities, and better cooperation with the local government.

In Poland, the Program targets Polish non-governmental organisations operating in towns and municipalities that have partnership agreements with their German counterparts. Such organisations could apply for grants to support projects implemented in collaboration with German organisations from twin towns and municipalities. Projects may concern various areas of public life, though they should respond to the actual needs of local communities and utilize mutual experiences of the partners.

Grants are awarded on a competitive basis, with an international Jury of Polish, Czech, and German experts supervising the two-tier application assessment procedure. As a result of the competition, in 2003, 32 Polish and 15 Czech initiatives received funding. The awarded Polish projects span a vast array of activities: from domestic violence prevention, youth and senior communities' integration, and promotion of professional activity of women in a united Europe, to the projects devoted to the cultivation and caretaking of common historic venues, organisation of cultural or sports events serving the purpose of overcoming national stereotypes and prejudices and involving large community groups from both partner towns or cities.

The Program is financed by the Robert Bosh Foundation.

Citizens in Action Program

The aim of the program launched in 2003 thanks to the Ford Foundation grant, is to increase public participation in Ukraine and Belarus by fostering various forms of civic self-organisation at the local, regional and national level. We wish to help build new civic initiatives, cross-sector co-operation programs and to engage in public policy advocacy.

In co-operation with Ukrainian and Belarusian partner organisations, we will support local civic initiatives in such areas as legal education and information for citizens, enforcement and protection of individuals rights, civic education for youth, creation of local civic activity centers, transparency of local government, and access to information.

In an open competition, 29 organisations from three Belarusian (Brest, Mogilev, Vitebsk) and seven Ukrainian (Tchernihov, Lugansk, Rovnensk, Vinnica, Zaporozhe, Zhitomer and Donetsk) districts were selected to serve as our program partners. They will receive technical assistance grants aimed to help them build local grant-making capability: enhance competencies, improve skills and strengthen their institutional capacity. A group of Polish assistants will visit every organisation involved several times by mid-2004 to assist the needs analysis, strengths and weaknesses identification and the provision of custom training programs.

The program is funded by the Ford Foundation.

East-East Program

This is a network program operating since 1991 in all countries of Central, Eastern, and Southern Europe and Central Asia. Its objective lies in promoting international cooperation across the region to help build and strengthen open societies in these countries. Program activities are coordinated by the Open Society Institute's East-East Network Program that approves and funds all grants awarded for projects implemented in particular countries.

In Poland grants are made for international projects implemented by Polish organisations and institutions as well as for participation of Poles in the projects carried out in other countries of the region. The projects benefiting from such support address different areas of social, economic, and political life; as a general rule, each one must have clearly formulated objectives and specific goals to be attained through its implementation. In another important point, the involvement of partners from the region should not be incidental but, rather, initiate or continue sustained cross-border cooperation of people and institutions, cooperation of the sort which may contribute to perfecting models for social activity and to resolution of problems at a local as well as regional level.

In 2003, the Program helped implement 19 projects developed by Polish NGOs, research and education institutions, scientific clubs and youth associations including 8 long-term ones developed in close collaboration with foreign partners. Most projects implemented by Polish organisations and institutions targeted our eastern neighbours: Ukraine, the Kaliningrad District and Belarus. They largely focused on promoting information on the European Union and consequences of Polish EU accession, cross-border cooperation, third sector development, support for dysfunctional groups (drug addicts, Roma women, abused children, and the disabled). In 2003 Polish experts were invited to participate in 46 projects run by foundations from other countries of the region: workshops, seminars, conferences devoted to various aspects of civil society such as civic education, local government, marginalised groups, etc.

Furthermore, in the year 2003 we organised two editions of Social Activation of the Youth competition inviting selected organisations operating in this field to compete for grants. The first edition covered two areas: integration of disabled youth and youth threatened with social marginalisation, and legal education of young people. The cooperation of Polish organisations with Belarusian and Ukrainian partners focused mainly on legal education. The second edition focused on developing business skills in the youth community, stimulating their participation in local initiatives and promoting their participation in public life. Main partners in these projects were Ukrainian organisations. 15 grants were made to support long-term projects (of which 8 were paid in 2003, and the remaining 7 to be disbursed in 2004).

This Program was co-funded by the Open Society Institute (PLN 976,406.02).

Regional Alcohol and Drug Program

The purpose of this Program, in operation since 1996, is to co-operate and exchange experience with specialists and organisations from Central and Eastern Europe and Central Asia in the field of fighting addictions. We provide a variety of forms of training specialists in the field of prevention and treatment of alcohol and drug addiction, as well as of educating families of the addicted.

A crucial field of regional co-operation involves the transfer of our experience gained in managing the Atlantis alcohol addict treatment program, which – thanks to our initiative and assistance – for the past 11 years has been run with great success in Polish prisons. Over the past years, we have also been sharing our experience in setting up therapy programs for perpetrators of crime of violence, both in and out of inmate communities.

In 2003, educational work forming part of the Program involved 16 seminars and workshops for specialists in addiction therapy and prevention. Such seminars were held in Bulgaria, Georgia, Latvia, Russian Federation, in Ukraine, Kyrgyzstan, Slovakia, and Tadzhikistan. Three seminars were organised in Poland: for withdrawal treatment therapists, for penitentiary institution employees (on the treatment of addicted inmates), and for representatives of the state administration and local authorities (on methods of reducing damage caused by alcohol abuse).

We organised our first symposium for representatives of the addiction treatment community from western and eastern countries focusing on the Minnesota Model, increasingly popular in Poland; this method is used in case of the vast majority of adults addicted to alcohol or drugs. The Model involves an assumption that alcohol and drug addictions are diseases that can be stopped with total abstinence. The therapy is group work based, and includes the patients' immediate next of kin. The treatment team comprises doctors, psychologists, psychiatrists, social workers, withdrawing therapists, and spiritual guides. The Model is based on a crucial element of partnership between professionals and the Alcoholics Anonymous or Drug Addicts Anonymous community (Al-Anon for families), the main role of whom involves support for people approaching the end of treatment, and requiring daily help in learning how to live the everyday life without intoxicants. The symposium closed with a joint resolution on the establishing of an association of specialists applying the Minnesota Model in treating addictions.

As part of the Program, 24 psychologists, therapists, and doctors from countries within the region attended internships at addiction treatment centres (i.e. MONAR, the Addiction Therapy Centre of the Psychiatric Institute and Psychiatric Hospital in Tworki, the addiction treatment outpatient clinic in Toruń, as well as with a number of Atlantis programs in prisons).

We continued to publish our ArkA magazine on addictions in Russian (two issues annually), and in Bulgarian (one issue annually). We supported the publication of four books on addiction treatment (in Georgia and Bulgaria). We published the Russian translation of On Crimes and Punishments by Wiktor Osiatyński used during seminars on domestic violence.

Together with the Legal Education Program we organized a panel debate on corrective justice with the participation of James Consedine, a specialist from New Zealand.

Throughout 2003, we provided partner organisations in the region with a total amount of USD 62,794.25. The vast majority of funds were used to cover travel costs of foreign specialists coming to Poland to attend our training sessions or practical treatment internships.

The Program was funded by the Open Society Institute (PLN 711,308.60)

Opinion of the independent auditor

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Stefan Batory Foundation, seated in Warsaw, consisting of the introduction to the financial statements, the balance sheet as at 31 December 2003 with total assets and total liabilities and equity of PLN 109,352,462.96; the profit and loss account for the year then ended with a net profit of PLN 19,369,993.97; and the supplementary information and explanations.

These financial statements are the responsibility of the management of the Foundation. Our responsibility is to audit and express an opinion on the financial statements and whether the financial statements are derived from properly maintained accounting records.

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing as promulgated by the International Federation of Accountants, section 7 of the Polish Accounting Act dated 29 September 1994 (Revised Text, Official Journal from 2002, No. 76, item 694), the Minister of Finance's decree on the specific accounting principles for certain entities which do not operate based on Commercial Code regulations and are not involved in business activities dated 15 November 2001 (Official Journal no. 137, item 1539), Act on Foundations dated 6 April 1984 (Official Journal no.21, item 97 with subsequent amendments) and the professional standards established by the Polish National Council of Certified Auditors. These standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain a reasonable basis for expressing an opinion on the financial statements. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management of the Foundation, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements of the Stefan Batory Foundation have been prepared from properly maintained accounting records and present fairly, in all material aspects, the financial position of the Foundation as at 31 December 2002 and the results of its operations in accordance with the accounting standards applied in Poland as set out in the Polish Accounting Act dated 29 September 1994 and the Minister of Finance's decree on the specific accounting principles for certain entities which do not operate based on Commercial Code regulations (Official Journal no. 137, item 1539) and are not involved in business activities dated 15 November 2001, and are in compliance with the respective laws, regulations and the provisions of the Foundation's statute that apply to the Foundation's financial statements.

As required under the Polish Accounting Act dated 29 September 1994 we also report that the Report on the Foundation's activities includes the information required by Art. 49 Note 2 of the Accounting Act and the information is consistent with the financial statements.
